Dedicated to the Spirit of Wildcat Hill

"What wouldst thou have? I am ready to obey thee as thy slave, and the slave of all those who have that lamp in their hands, both I and the other slaves of the lamp."

These words of the genie within Aladdin's lamp are the language of our own wonderful lamp - the Lamp of Learning. And the genie who rises when we polish that lamp is the immortal Spirit of Wildcat Hill.

For sixty years he has risen to ask NLRHS students "What would you have?" For all those years he has said "I am ready to obey thee as thy slave" to faithful Wildcats who were willing to appear on cold fall mornings at 7:30 to practice half-time marching formations for Friday night's game - or a club meeting; to work all day Saturday as a Candy Striper - or a cross country runner; to "burn the midnight oil" for a Science Fair project or write a senior theme; to "walk a hundred miles" selling advertising to pay for publications or senior activities; to inspire athletes giving of time, talent, and strength above and beyond the call of duty.

He is the Spirit that urges each to give his best - not just his minimum - to a nation fighting for its life, its way of life. He is the Spirit that will see our dreams and hopes fulfilled by steadfast courage and determination; for we have learned that today is yesterday's tomorrow, and tomorrow the future is ours to command.

So it is with sincerest gratitude and esteem that the Publications Staff dedicates this 1962 issue of the Wildcat to The Spirit of Wildcat Hill, and to "all those who have (his) lamp within their hands."

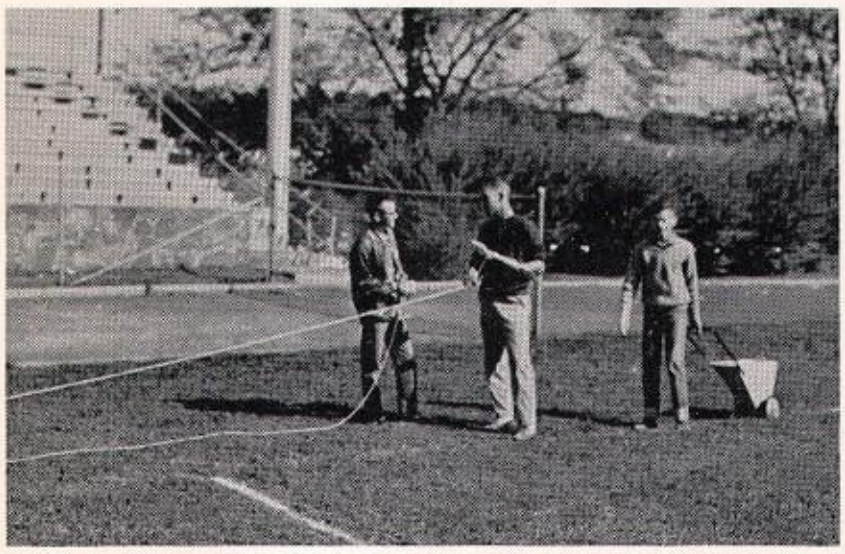
Spirit ran high at the beginning of the season . . . . the field was prepared for action and the coaches prepared the team . . . .

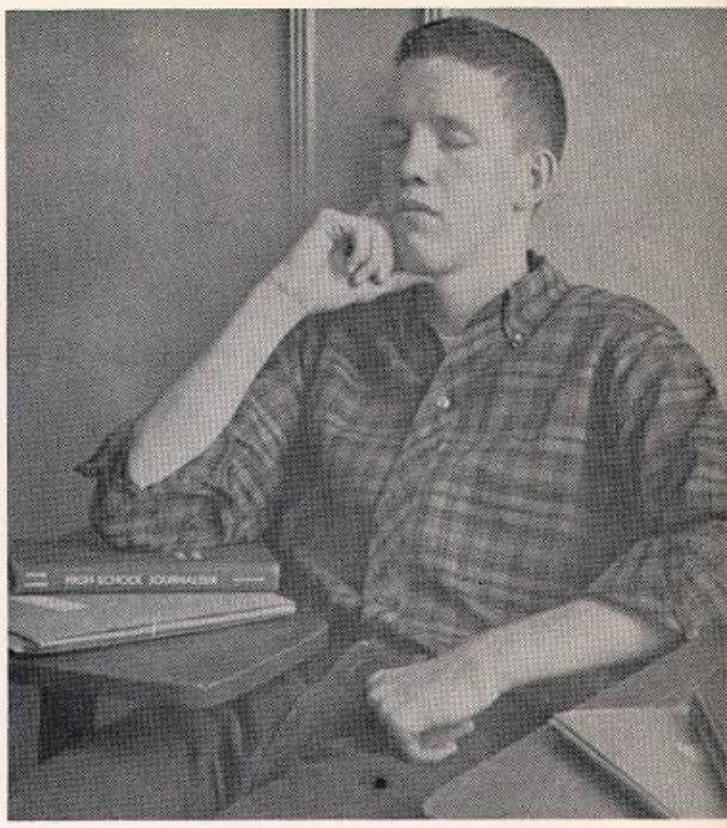


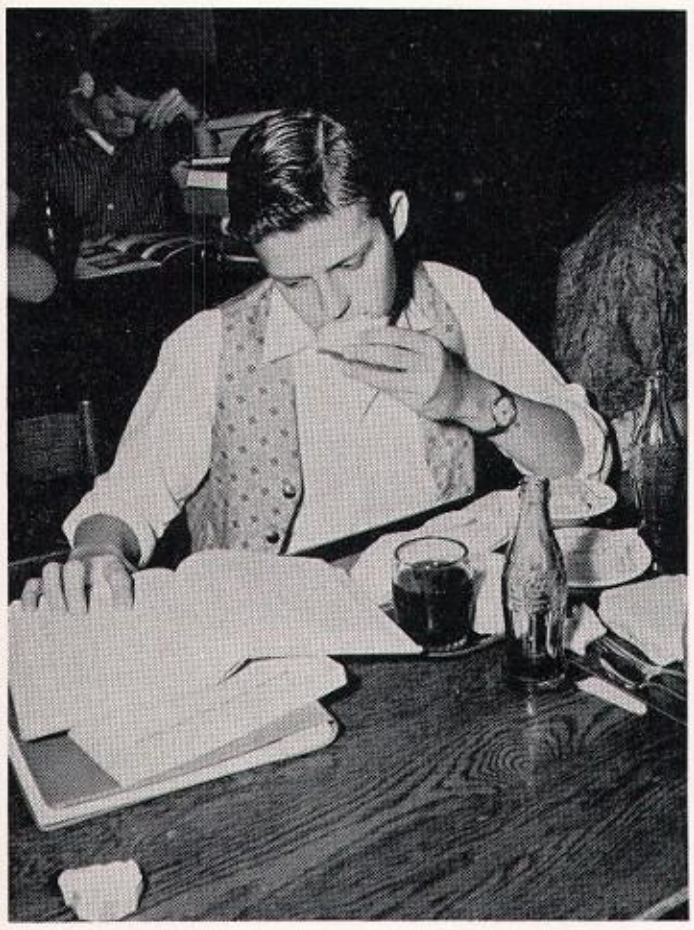
The Year Rolled By

Day By Glorious Day

They said we'd have to work our way up . . . . . and we did as the hopeful seniors wait in the lengthy line for their Senior rings.

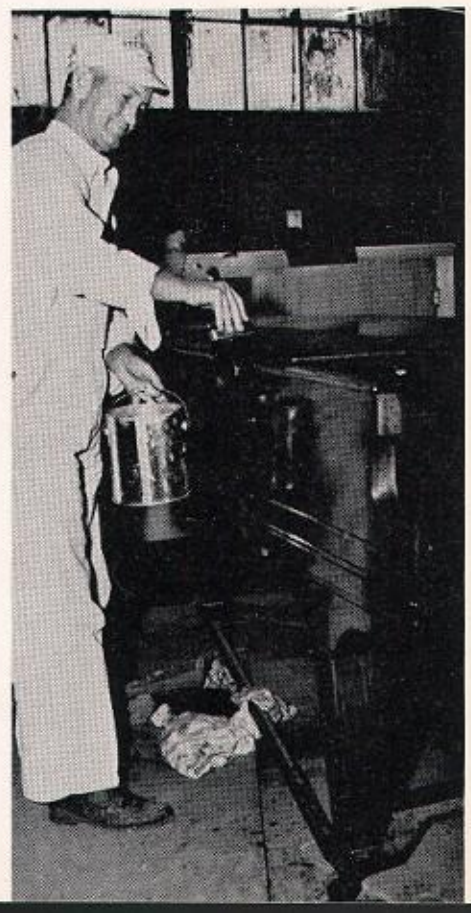
Spirit ran high at the beginning of school and we threw ourselves into our work . . . . but as the year went on some of just slept through those facinating lectures.



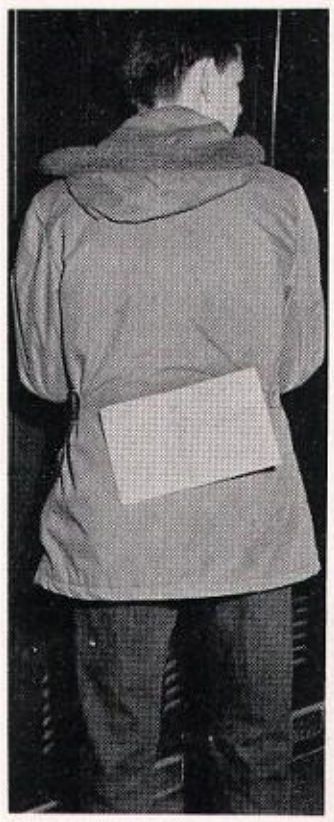


We 'crammed' . . . . food and knowledge, all in our short lunch hours but when Senior Breakfast time rolled around we laid aside our books and concentrated on the old adage, "eat, drink and be merry!"

Our school took on new faces . . . the campus with the fine, white coat of snow and the old piano with its new, fresh coat of varnish.

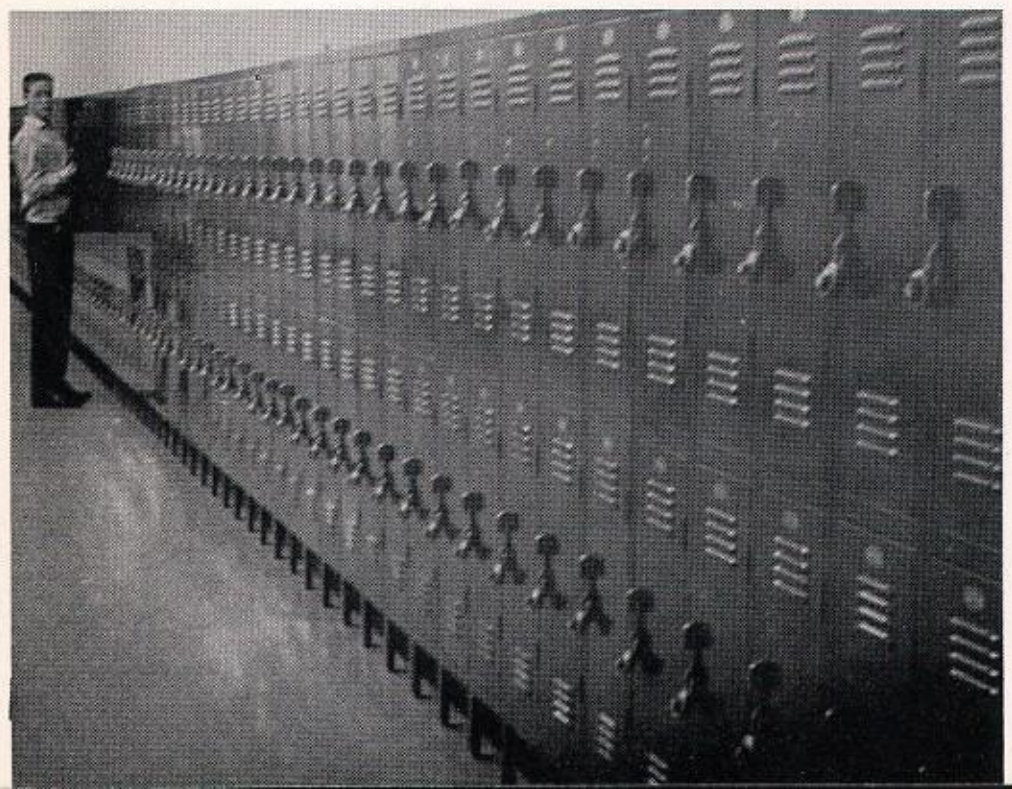


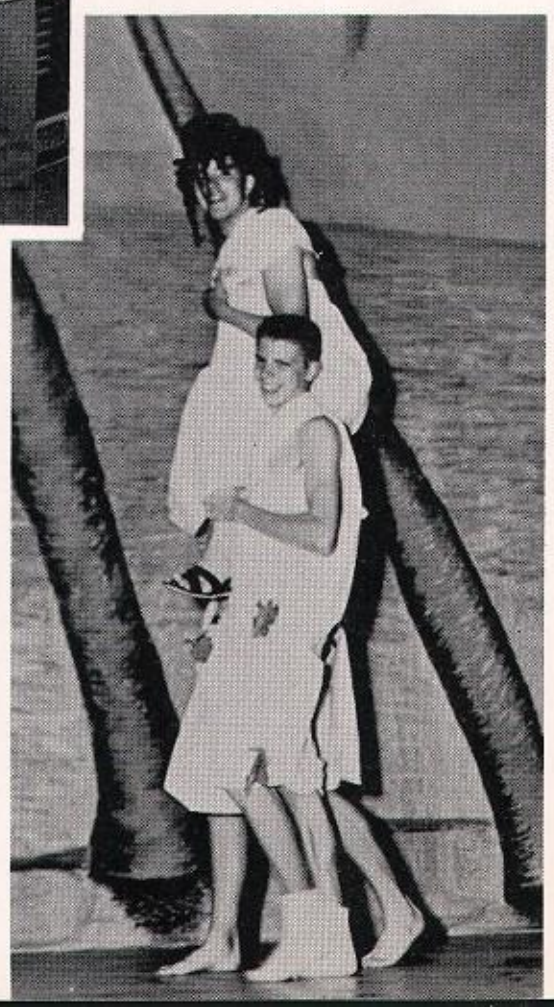
There were assemblies, inductions, and elections.



Some conformed and really "backed" their candidates while others remained individualists.

Even after a few months of school some Sophomores remained bewildered with high school life.





After the school year got on the road, we hit the road, too, following the football team and giving support with our music and cheers. At the end of the season the hard-working football team was honored at the annual banquet where they received, among other things, their football blankets.

The classwork rolled along, too, as we combined hydrogen and oxygen and came out with water; we combined class time and radio and came out with an unforgettable experience of listening to astronaut John Glenn, Jr. on his history-making "Tour" of the realm just about 150 miles above the earth. With all this, we found time to send the traditional Valentines to our friends via Student Council.

The Musical Varieties time of the year rolled around one rainy evening in March as the members of the N.L.R. choirs sang their hearts out as they presented exerpts from Rogers & Hammerstein's production of "Oklahoma!" This part of the program was done by the Senior Choir and the Boys' Chorus.

The other choirs and choruses presented parts of the Musical Varieties, each section singing songs of various things. The production was work, the work was fun, and the fun was rewarding to the members of the cast in the "best M.V. production ever at N.L.R."

Language is one of the greatest non-physical barriers separating men. It is the base upon which we must work to promote international understanding and in turn international good will. We must be able to make ourselves understood as well as to understand.

NLRHS encourages students to learn more about themselves and others by offering courses in English, Latin, French, Spanish, and Journalism.

The Journalism and English classes seek to establish a basis of language and literature that is common to all English speaking peoples.

The foreign language courses not only teach the language, but also gives the students an opportunity to become acquainted with customs, dress, and daily life of our various world neighbors native to the land speaking that language.

"The Language Melting Pot"

In France it's French, in Spain it's Spanish, but in the United States the national language is English. By borrowing words from the German language, Latin, and the Anglo-Saxon dialects and mixing them all together, the result is English. Thus the United States has become the melting pot for many cultures and many languages.

The United States is truly blessed with having English as its national language, for it is now spoken by some two-hundred million people and was singled out after World War II to become the international language spoken by all.

Few Americans realize what an important language they have inherited. But, after studying it three years under the guidance such as that offered at NLRHS they understand that it is more than just a murmur of words. They then realize that it is not enough to be able to speak it correctly, but write it as well. Also this must be done effectively, colloquially, and formally.

The English Department of NLRHS places in the students' hands the tool with which their success and happiness may someday depend - the knowledge of his great borrowed language - English.

All right, Caesar, just for that you can make your own pizzas... Pat Donaldson threatens Ronny Franks.

Latin

Great Caesar's Ghost Still Haunts Wildcat Hill--

"Perhaps of all the creation of man language is the most astonishing," said Strachey. And since Latin is considered the Mother language a study of it always proves quite interesting. Why? It is the key to civilization.

In ancient times the monks and poets preserved the literature of their period not in their everyday language but in Latin. Thus it was to be able to translate it. Even today most of the noted scientists, scholars, and other dignitaries are well acquainted with Latin.

Latin at NLRHS is a two year course. In the first year a sizable vocabulary, declension of nouns, and the conjugation of verbs are studied. During the second a review and advancement of the first year is made.

After completing two years of Latin, the student knows much about the customs of the people of Rome, the tragedy of Caesar, and the fall of the Roman Empire. Thus he has studied not only a foreign language, but history and literature as well.

Spanish

Viva El Toro! Cats Pursue Bull

Our southern neighbor is the continent of the Spanish language. The Spanish established colonies in the early sixteenth century and these settlements still show the influence of the home land, Spain.

The study of this gay and colorful language has double purpose; not only do the students learn how to speak the language of our friends, but also broaden their outlook of the world around us.

The study of Spanish at NLRHS is divided into two parts; first year and second year students learn tense and conjugation of verbs, pronouns, subjects, objects, and reflexives.

Spanish contains many of the pitfalls in understanding and usage as our English language does. These problems help a Spanish student become a better English Student.

A gaily decorated room awaits every class along with a Spanish speaking pen pal. The practice in translating these letters is fun as well as stimulating and educational. Spanish holidays are celebrated with dances, songs and stories. Oral book reports are given in Spanish and classes are also conducted in Spanish. All this is to create a world-wide interest in our neighbors.

Spanish students on Wildcat Hill are equipped with not only a knowledge of the Spanish language but a better understanding of the lands and the customs of other countries.

If this bean jumps, I'm taking up French! Los Gatos Espanoles dine at Mexico Chiquito.

Bobby Sanders and Judy Hamilton contemplate the ladder of advancement's admonition: "If you can wag a foreign tongue you can reach a higher rung."

Like the other foreign languages at N.L.R.H.S., the study of French is divided into a two-year course. During the first year a general working vocabulary, conjugation of verbs, and a study of verb tenses acquaint the students with the language. Second year classes begin where the first year classes ended, and more verbs, additional tenses, and translations from a French reader are studied.

Activities of the French classes are interesting and varied. They include correspondence with language students in both French and American schools. Thus the students not only learn a new language, but also gain international friends as well.

French

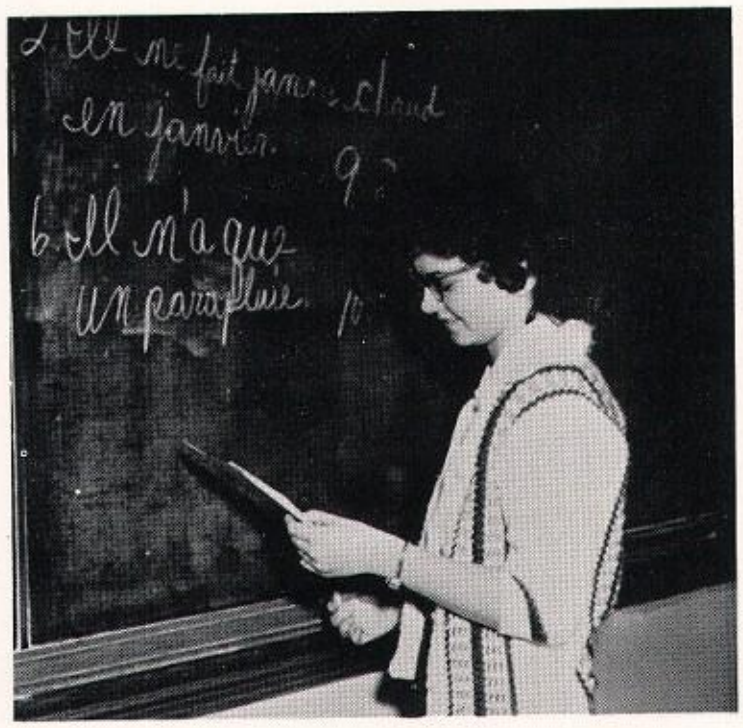
It's All Greek To Me.



Joan Wade translates.

Susan Rhodes and Richard Moore illustrate "Je ferme la porte" and "J'ouvre la fenetra."

Every graduating senior leaves NLRHS with a complete history of his final year. The two publications which make this a reality are the Hi Comet and the Wildcat.

The Hi Comet is the six to eight page newspaper published entirely by the students on a biweekly basis. This publication records all activities and events connected with the student of the High School by means of reliable staff writers. The network of jobs required to turn out the Hi Comet include ad salesmen, cartoonists, news editors, photographers, a sports editor, staff writers, a make-up editor and many others. The Hi Comet is an expensive project requiring somewhere near $2,000 to finance it.

The Wildcat is the annual which captures in word and picture form the entire year at NLRHS. It includes special clubs, departments and subjects under them, plus pictures of the teachers and students.

To finance this album, $2,550 or more in advertisement is necessary. Mounting pictures, writing body copy, and organizing sections are just a few of the jobs behind the Wildcat. This book is always dedicated to a person, place, or spirit of outstanding value to our school. Then a theme is selected and reflected throughout the book.

"I can't believe I don't know what we're doing!" sighs Penny Hughes, as she and other first year Journalism students work on the Hi Comet.

"Around the World In 175 Days!"

Man is chiefly interested in himself and his surroundings, and history and geography are the records and text of his achievements.

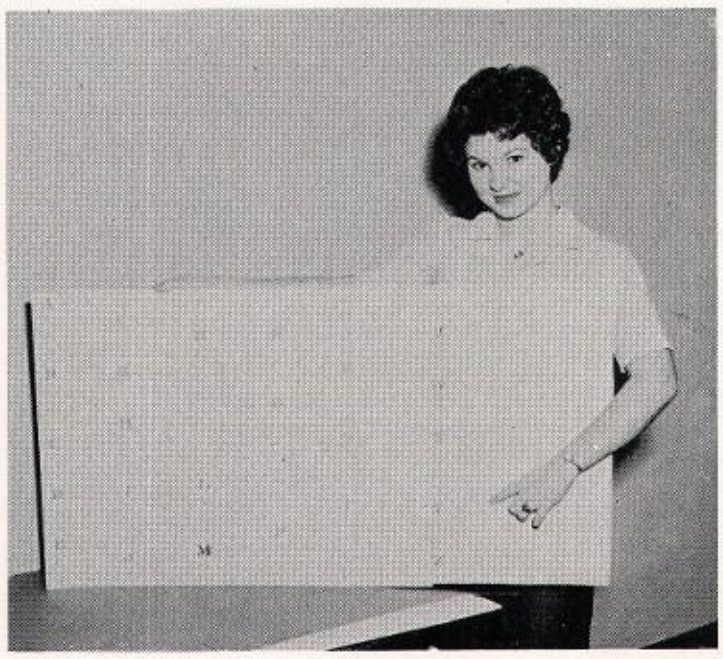
The student of world history, not only looks into the events of civilization as far back as the records permit, but he also realizes the history he reads in today's headlines or sees through the medium of television and the news film.

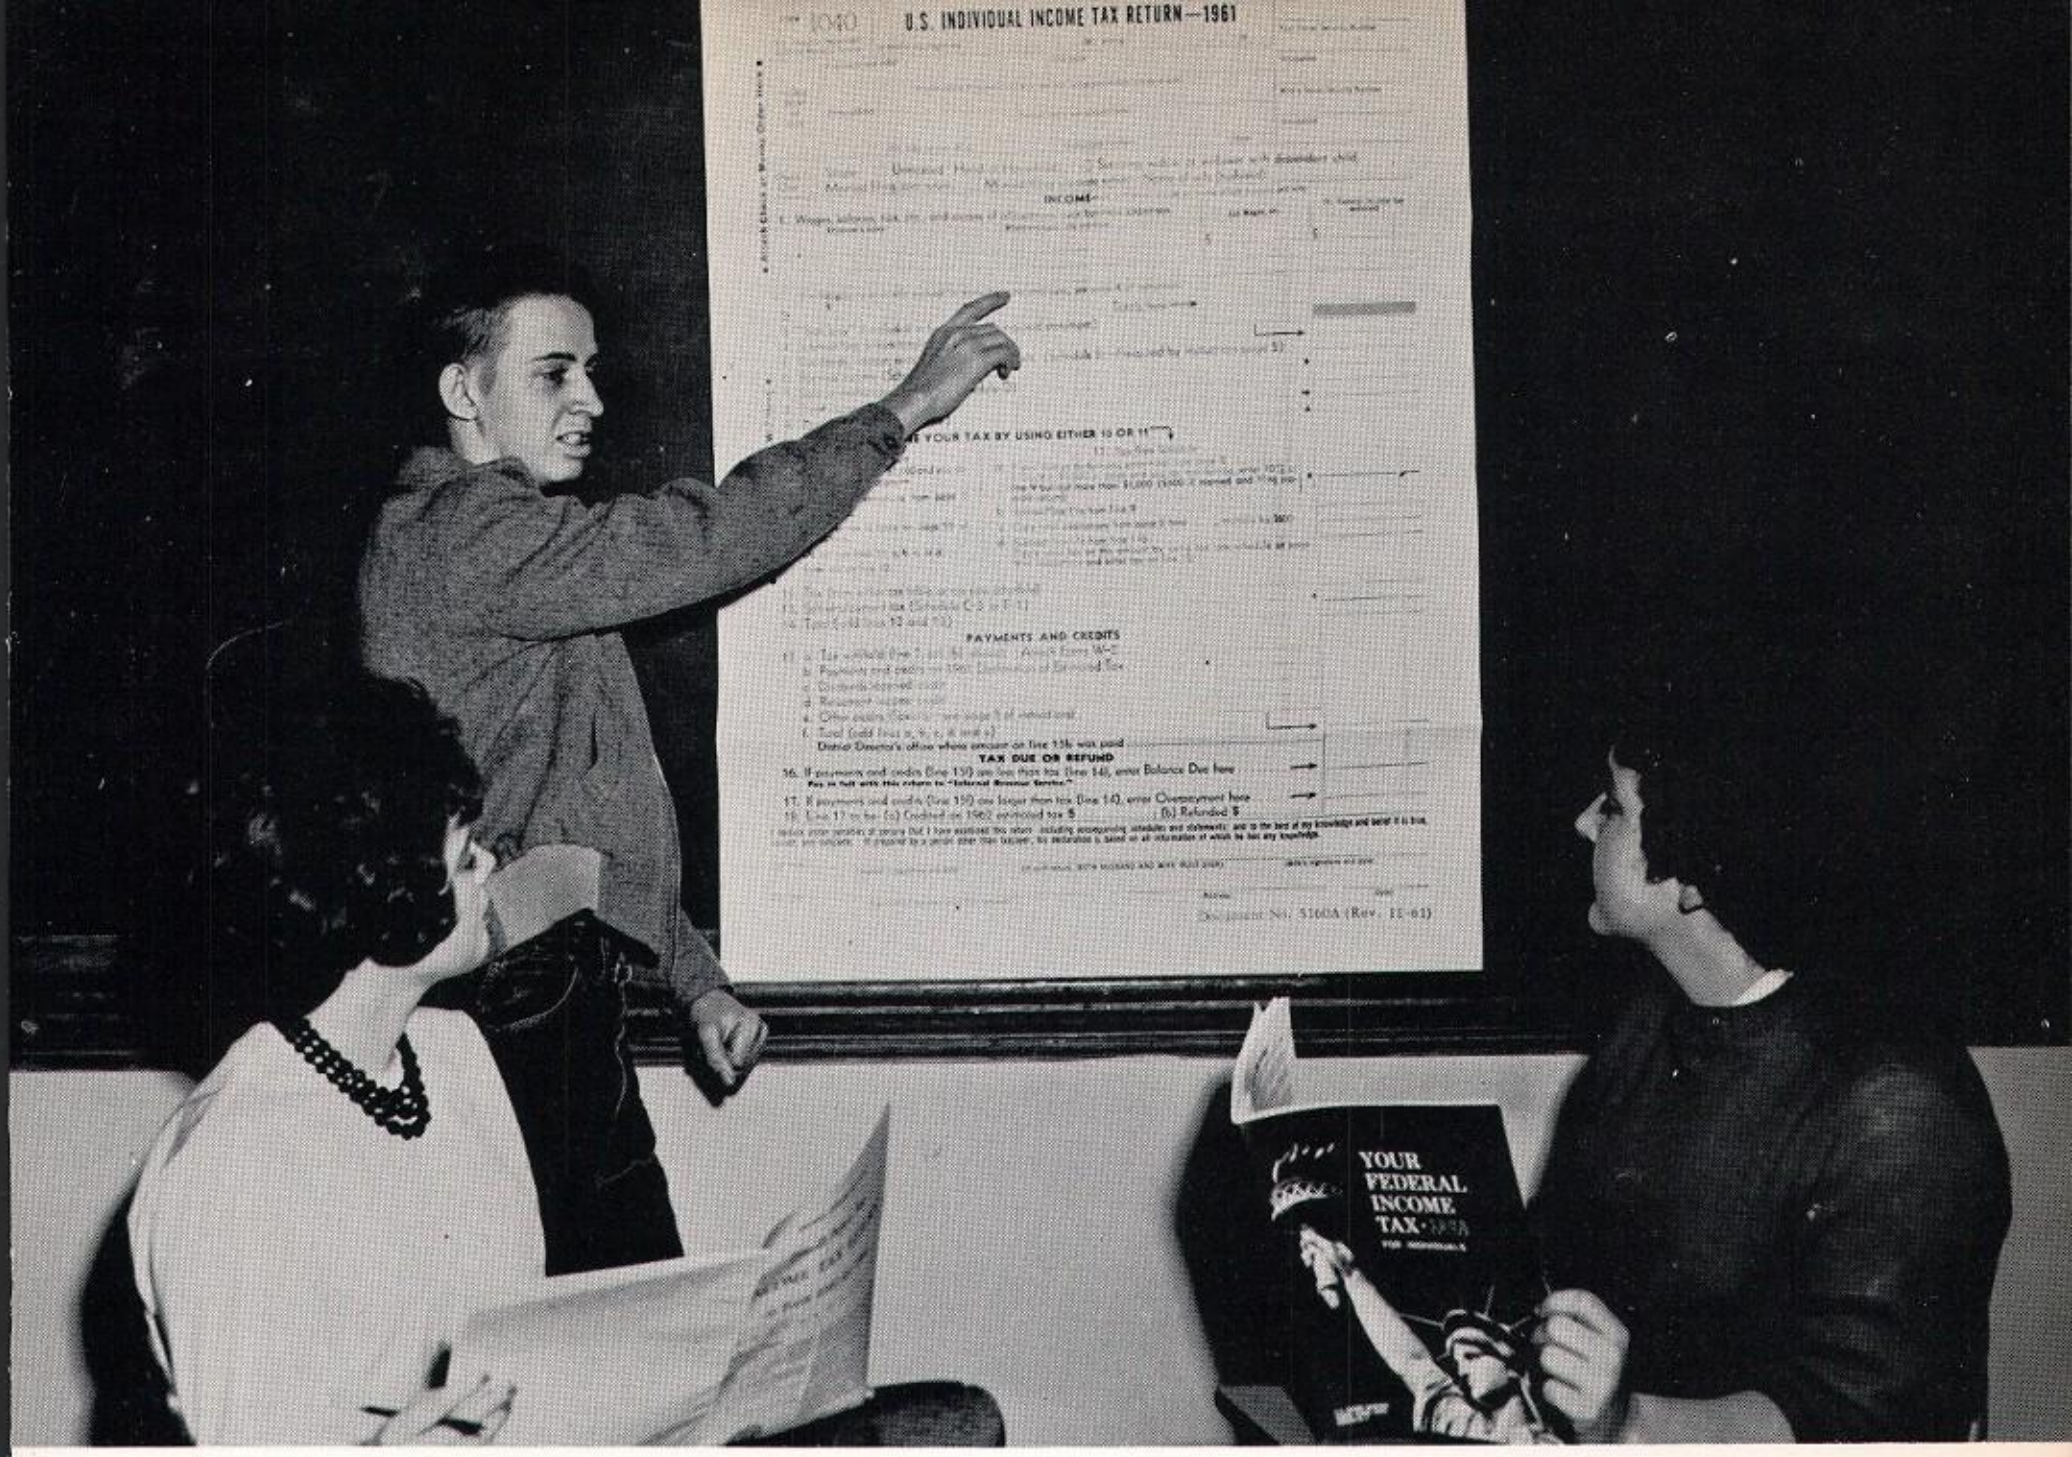
Through world geography the student learns the relationship between man and the climate and the soil. Every phase in man's life is the result of the climate and the natural terrain of his home. The forces of nature are strong and control to a large degree the clothes he wears, the food he eats, his occupation, the structure and material of his shelter, and his physical features.

Even in this day of great science we are still mastered by nature, and through courses such as world geography the student can understand this.

"But this just doesn't look like Arkansas," remarks Jo Lee Rotten to Pat Gregory and Andy Prince as they diligently study World Geography.

"And this is what I learned in my Advanced Alphabet class," says Carolyn Stout as she displays one of her World History class projects.





"You know," Hershel Meyer explains to Wanda Haskins and Carolyn Croom, "it was a Russian who said, 'These Americans are amazing ---every year they get wiped out by the income tax, and still they come back'."

To understand others, one must first understand himself is the basic theory behind the course in Human Relations, the one social science or general psychology course offered at N.L.R.H.S.

An elective for Sophomores, the course begins with an orientation to life in high school, and proceeds into the ways and means of developing good study habits.

Of special interest to teen-agers is its field of concentration on manners and proper etiquette for all occasions, boy-girl relationships, courtship, marriage, and better family relations.

From the standpoint of personal and community relationships, the course offers studies in driver fitness and attitude, and the effects of alcohol and narcotics.

To help the student decide what career he will pursue, there is a study of the various occupations, their advantages and disadvantages, skill and training requirements.

And to reach its ultimate aim of helping the student develop a satisfactory philosophy of life, the course also looks into logical thinking and good mental health.

Besides the textbook, students have available a great quantity of research material in magazines, newspaper clippings, and pamphlets by recognized authorities; see a number of selected films, and hear talks by trained professional personnel.

MIND YOUR MANNERS! A lesson in introduction by Fred Hanchey, Charlotte Clements, and Beth Mills.

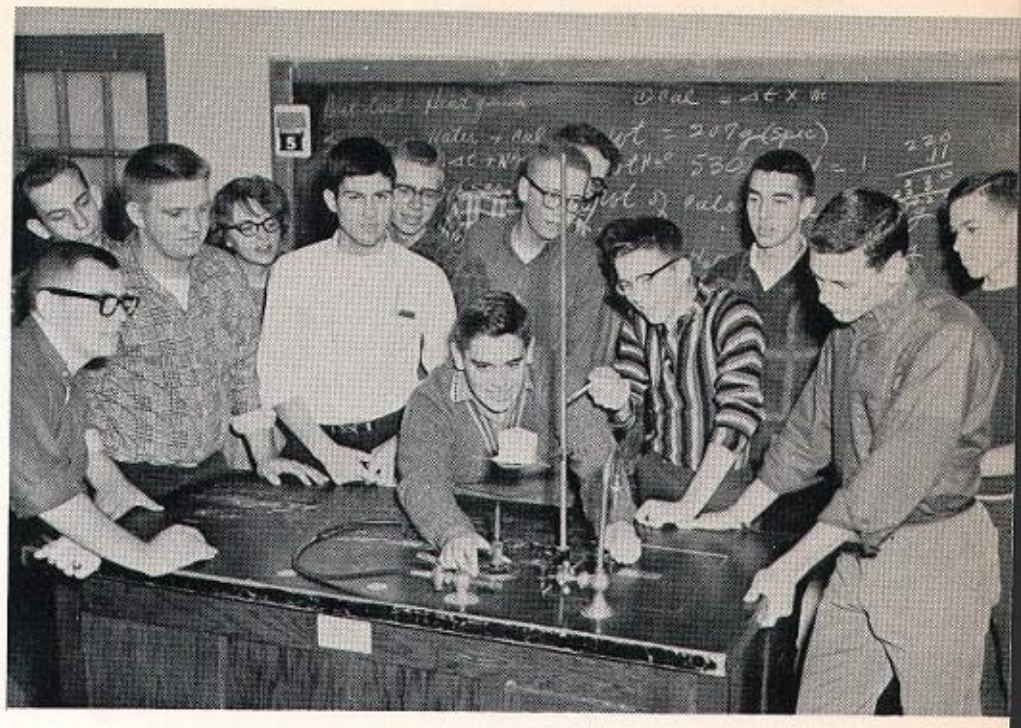
The mathematical sciences of geometry, algebra, and trigonometry are several thousand years old. Yet, the problems that intrigued the founders of mathematics still tax the brains of the modern high school students.

They must prove the proven, solve the solved, discover the discovered in order to understand and appreciate what the Euclids and Archimedeses of mathematical history did for the world. Everything in this world is based on or composed of some form of math.

Physics is the bridge between math and science and is made up of both. The student learns about the forces of nature, air and water, light, heat, sound, electricity and the laws of motion, gravity, time, gases and many others. Where math and science shows HOW something is done, Physics tells WHY. Through physics one learns why and how he is able to walk, an apple falls, a star shines, and steam forms. Physics shows the student how the human race is dependent upon its knowledge of physical laws for its simplest actions and material comforts.

Biology is the study of life on this planet. In high school it gives a student an opportunity to study heredity, botany, zoology, physiology, and ethnology in an interesting and fascinating way. Often the student is inspired to continue his study of these fields even after he has completed high school.

Through Chemistry the student learns the make-up of matter in every form.



Look at that report card burn! Physics students recreate a complexed problem.

"To Err Is Human . . ."
To Erase . . . . Taboo!

The Commercial Department of NLRHS trains the students who want to enter into the "big world of business" after they graduate. The department is so thorough in its wide range of studies and teachings that many students do not have to attend a business school to receive supplementary training in order to get a well-paying job.

Future stenographers, accountants, and secretaries have a wide range of courses available: shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, and office practice.

Those who wish to enter business for themselves are aided by courses in business organization, law, and management.

The Commercial Department is always kept up to date with the addition of new electric machines in the business machine class and the latest methods and procedures of bookkeeping. In this way NLRHS students are assured of a complete and modern education in the business field.

"Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam, be it ever so humble there's no place like home."

This phrase is true as long as it's a home and not a house. Comfort, companionship, understanding, and love makes the difference. Based on these beliefs the Homemaking Department strives to produce homemakers who can make these qualities inherent in tomorrow's homes.

Girls who enroll in either of the two courses of Home Economics not only learn the basic mechanics of homemaking but how to make the best of interior decoration inspired by imagination and needs; child care, home nursing, entertainment in the home, and keeping a cheerful, friendly atmosphere in the home.

Learning by experience is the method of teaching applied in this course. But you'll find no drooping hems or sagging seams because the girls work until they have produced clothing of perfection to please the watchful eyes of their class instructors.

Home projects are also encouraged to help the student practice their skills at home. The students are required to turn in one of the projects each six weeks, each representing a separate phase of homemaking.

Prehistoric man started his road to improvement with the invention of the wheel. Down through the ages men have steadily improved their mechanical knowledge.

Today there are not only skilled mechanics but also men specialized in the knowledge of electrical engineering, drafting, and crafts.

The NLRHS Vocational Department endeavors to teach the future tradesmen the fundamental arts of today's mechanical world.

The well-trained instructors teach their students the basis of mechanics, electronics, machine shop, and industrial arts.

Into the hands of such departments as our vocational Department, as well as the many other vocational departments throughout the United States, falls the responsibility of developing the tradesmen of tomorrow.

"One ought at least to hear a little melody everyday, read a fine poem, see a good picture, and if possible, make a few sensible remarks," said Goethe. Thus literature, art, music, and speech make up the world of Fine Arts.

NLRHS encourages the development of these "priceless arts" and gives the students the opportunity to discover and train his talents. And hardly a year goes by without a special honor being bestowed upon a student of art, drama, band, or music.

Art, thought by most people, is simply drawing and painting. But it consists also of interior decorating, magazine layouts, landscaping, and countless other forms of decoration.

Drama is not simply the study of acting, but also the methods used to speak and perform effectively in everyday life.

Music, of course, is the international language. It is one of the oldest forms of entertainment and is still popular today.

"To improve the golden moment of opportunity, and to catch the good that is within our reach, is the great art of life." .....Samuel Johnson.

Art

Man's Oldest Means of Self Expression

An integral part of the spirit of American people is the freedom to express themselves. The Art Department of NLRHS encourages the development of unusual interests and the abilities of its students by providing a wholesome atmosphere in which to work and excellent instruction.

The art classes not only provide an outlet for the talents and energies of the students, but they also perform useful services for many school organizations. These services include preparation of scenery and backdrops for assemblies, Christmas and other seasonal decorations in the lobby, the traditional Wildcat head at football games, and art work for various other school activities.

The Art Department offers a very broad and liberal course. The painting, ceramic figurines, pottery, leather work, centerpieces, and various other sorts of handwork that adorn every convenient wall and table, never cease to amaze and please the visitor.

Who can point out the potential Rembrandt, DaVinci, or Picasso that now walks these very halls? Perhaps some day one of these students may astound the world with the perfection, originality, and beauty of his individual work. Then we can point with pride as we remember that his career began in NLRHS!

I thought when I got out of grammar school they'd let me use something stronger than water colors. Beverly Weathersby, Harold Phillips, Barbara Thompson, Sherry Cathy and Kathy Middlebrooks demonstrate sketching and painting at the AEA meeting.

They said we couldn't carve on the desks, but they didn't say anything about painting. First year art students work on daily assignment.

Having trouble with your pronunciation, enunciation, and grammar in general? How is your inflection and voice modulation? These are only a few of the myriad of things that NLRHS Speech students must consider in order to make public speaking become a common and desirable everyday thing.

Debate, as a part of the overall speech program, helps students overcome stage fright and gain self confidence, and the ability to think clearly. It emphasizes the importance of knowing what you are talking about and considering both sides of a problem before drawing a conclusion. By gaining self confidence and the ability to think clearly, the debaters become better citizens, for these skills are necessary in a democratic society like ours.

Debates are frequently held with other school teams, and occasionally our groups have made television and other public appearances.

Drama makes up the third important part of the speech program. Students are schooled in make-up, costuming, and the finer points of acting. As a result, the productions of the Drama Class are more polished and have a more "professional air" about them than most high schools and even some colleges .

Thus in Speech I and II the student learns how to speak publicly, privately, and how to do it effectively. In Debate, they learn how to form unbiased opinions and how to argue a point. And, in Drama they have the chance to use their ability to entertain with the experience they gained in Speech I.

During the football season the Band is combined into one effort--the Fighting Wildcat Marching Band, which always supports the football team, whether winning or losing.

This Band during the twelve weeks of football season, entertains all football fans with excellent half-time shows.

After football season the band settles down to serious business and the Marching band is divided into two divisions--the Concert Band and The Varsity Band.

The Concert Band is made up of only the very best players and are hand chosen by Mr. J. R. Brandon, Band Director. The remainder of the Bandsmen are placed in the Varsity Band.

These Bands have two annual concerts each year and many other activities, which they perform to make all Wildcats proud.

"One ought at least hear a little melody every day," said Goethe. And what better place could one be heard than in the Choral Department at NLRHS! Here Sophomores learn the essentials of music and gain experience by working with a group in Glee Club. Juniors may continue their choral studies in Junior Girls' Chorus or Choir.

This previous training is valuable in trying out for Senior Choir, which is a special honor for anyone selected. This choir is in great demand to perform at various school and civic activities.

From the Senior Choir a Boys' Quartet, Girls' Trio, and Ensemble are selected.

Added choral attractions are the Boys' Chorus and Senior Girls' Chorus.

The Senior Choir sings for the Thanksgiving Assembly.

With the Musical Varieties Feature this year, 'Oklahoma,' came a lot of work that produced a lot of fun for the audience as well as the members of the cast . . . . . all the hours of rehearsal paid off on the production termed "professional" by many showgoers.

In addition to the highlight of the year, Musical Varieties, the Senior Choir and Senior Boys Quartet participated in many other activities.

Various choral groups perform for the annual Christmas Assembly.

NLTHS endeavors each year to produce students that are the best-all-around. To do this the student must be educated physically and mentally.

The Physical Education Department on Wildcat Hill endeavors to fulfill the physical needs. Any student who enrolls in P.E. participates in various sports activities and games which teach the importance of physical fitness and good sportsmanship.

Girls participate in volleyball, badminton, flag football, fundamentals and fine points of softball, basketball, tumbling, calisthenics, and various track activities.

In the Spring and early fall, classes meet outside for football, softball, and other activities. Then in the colder months, classes meet inside for volleyball, basketball, tumbling, dancing and others.

Sore and aching muscles are many times the result of these exercises and games. Soon the student realizes that he or she is receiving a lesson in fair play, responsibility, and co-operation and the thought of the bruised bones, sick stomachs and tired tendons soon is forgotten.

The national physical fitness program has served as an alarm to awaken the youth of today. We as a nation have become soft and luxury-loving, but hope is not lost. The students at NLRHS are taking part in this program. They are not only strengthening their minds with studies, but their bodies with physical exercises also.

Inexperienced Cats Get Unexpected 6-6 Season

Butting heads with some of the toughest competition seen in two years, the Wildcats opening the season with only four returning lettermen, managed to overcome their lack of playing time and pulled out a .500 season with six wins and six losses, the best record since 1959.

At the beginning of the year, head football coach Jim Albright faced one of the toughest problems he has had to face when he found that he had only one veteran, Mike Vaughan, in the backfield and only two seasoned linemen, Stuart Hankins and Doug Odom. His other letterman, Leroy Shumate, had had only goal-line defense experience and almost everyone else on the team had only their 'B' team experience and a lot of hope.

Hope was not the only asset which held the Wildcats together. Determination and plenty of desire helped Coach Albright and Coach Don Jolly, head line coach, to mold a fairly hard driving offense and a mean defense. Stalwarts Glen Montgomery, Dwight Gill, and Stuart Hankins helped to spur the 'Cats when the spirit seemed low, and helped immensely to make the breaks when they were needed most.

A tribute should now be extended to our dedicated Wildcat football coaches, Jim Albright, Don Jolly, Vernon Hutchins and Jim Bohannon, along with a wish to our Wildcat Genie for an undefeated, unscored on, 1962 football season.

Wildcats Crush Trojans 16-0

On September 8, 1961, an inexperienced Wildcat team took the field against the Subiaco Trojans, and upset the prediction by a victory of 16-0.

The Wildcat defense, led by Glen Montgomery, a line backer, and Stuart Hankins held the Trojans to only 85 yards rushing and 5 first downs.

Halfback Mike Vaughan scored first with a five yard sweep after the 'Cats had driven 66 yards. Wesley Byrd scored second with an off-tackle plunge. Byrd scored PAT's. The final score came when Subiaco fumbled a snap from center on a punt and was caught in the end zone for a touchback.

Chicks Recover Fumble, Win 13-7

A tragic night for the Cats on their first away-from-home game as the Cats received their first defeat of the year at the hands of the Blytheville Chicks.

The statistics tended to show the Cats as outplaying the Chicks for they gained 155 yards to the Chicks 85 and 11 first downs to their 6.

Both teams scored in the first quarter with Vaughan returning a punt 59 yards and Wesley Byrd adding the PAT. The Chicks then scored on a pass. The game stayed a 7-7 deadlock until the tragic 4th period when NLR fumbled on their own 21 yard line and the Chicks scored, ending the scoring with a Chick victory of 13-7.

Warriors Massacre Cats 20-0

"Jinx," is the word best describing our defeat by Hall High. The Cats just haven't been able to whip the Injuns since they first began playing them. This year didn't prove to be any different as the Warriors took home a 20-0 smash victory.

The Wildcats lacked nothing in effort but their inexperience just proved to be too much for them.

The Cats held the Injuns to only 7 points in the first half, but the determined Warriors came back with everything they had in the second.

Hall scored on three passes and a punt return, licking the Wildcats with a score of 20-0.

Oilers Drill Wildcats 23-7

Trying for their first big 9 win, the Cats traveled to El Dorado for their fourth game of the season only to be beaten with a score of 23-7.

Wesley Byrd scored for the Cats in the first half after a 91-yard drive in which the Wildcats looked surprisingly good. The score at the half was 7-0, in favor of the Cats.

The Cats couldn't hold, and in the second half, El Dorado piled up points on a 7 play drive, an intercepted pass, a safety, and a 37-yard drive, including 3 extra points.

Sharp Cats Dull Pointers

Their inexperience now more or less overcome, the Cats finally pulled out another victory after losing 3 straight. The Van Buren Pointers made the Wildcats work for their victory as a sharp bunch of Cats pulled out a 17-12 victory on a 24 yard field goal kicked by Wesley Byrd and two extra points added to two touchdowns.

The scoring came as follows: In the first half Byrd kicked a 24-yard field goal. In the second Vaughan scored again making the score 10-0.

In the third quarter Mumme passed to Vaughan and Byrd kicked the PAT, making the score 17-6.

Van Buren scored then, but the mighty Wildcat line crushed the extra point ending the game 17-12.

Trojans Bow To Cats 20-0

N.L.R. got its first conference victory over the Hot Springs Trojans, with a victory of 20-0.

The Cats' defense led by Gill, Hankins, and Glenn Montgomery were standouts as they held the Trojans to only 40 yards rushing to our 134.

Wilkins scored first for N.L.R. as he caught a Mumme pass and Byrd added the PAT, his first of two.

The Cats scored their second TD after a blocked punt gave them the ball. Marshall dived in for the TD.

A thrilling screen pass capped the scoring as Vaughan raced to the chalk after ends Wilkins and Danny Monroe took out the last defenders.

Zebras Take Close One From Cats

The Cats' 3-game winning streak was broken as the Pine Bluff Zebras pulled out a 7-6 victory in Wildcat Stadium.

The Cats scored first on a Mumme to Vaughan pass. Wesley Byrd's PAT was blocked, and the game remained the same until the second half, with the score at 6-0 in NLR's favor.

The third period meant defeat for the scrappy Wildcats, as Pine Bluff got the ball on their 45-yard line, ran a play to the Cats' 32, scored, and added the extra point, giving the Zebras the lead at 7-6.

The game from then on remained all Pine Bluff, until the Cats got a fumble, but were unable to score and the game ended with the numbers in favor of the Zebras.

Wildcats End Conway Jinx, 19-7

The Cats rolled on as they pulled out their fourth victory of the season and put a stop to the infamous Conway Jinx, with a score of 19-7.

North Little Rock scored the first time they got their hands on the ball, when a roughing-the-kicker penalty against Conway gave the Cats a first down on their own 44. Then Marvin Mumme lobbed a screen pass to halfback Mike Vaughn, who took it to Conway's 35. After a 15-yard penalty which put the Cats back on Conway's 42, Mumme again hit Vaughan at the 20, Vaughan then scored from the 7. Byrd's PAT was wide.

Byrd and Marshall scored the next two other TD's on a sweep and a pass and Byrd kicked only 1 PAT.

Conway scored in the final seconds and the game ended 19-7.

The New Tigers Rip Cats 20-0

A flat Wildcat team was beaten on this Friday in front of 2,000 fans by a fired-up Central High Tiger team, as the Bengals tore the Cats with a score of 20-0.

Central's backs stood out all night as they piled up a total of 211 yds. rushing, to the Cats' 134.

Central scored on 2 long runs and one short one, completing 2 PAT's.

This game dropped the Cats to No. 7 in the Big-Nine standings.

Bruins Tree Cats 53-7

'Expected' is the word best describing the loss of the Wildcats to the Fort Smith Grizzlies, with a score of 53-7 in Wildcat Stadium.

No one really expected the Cats to pull out an upset over this unbeaten Big-Nine Championship team. In fact not many teams did expect a victory. Catholic High even cancelled their game with the Grizzlies as they did not have a chance to win and also so they could get ready for us.

The Grizzlies scored on two runs and three passes.

Vaughan scored for the Cats and J. Brashear added the PAT.

Cats Slop Pigs 33-0

Junior quarterback Marvin Mumme helped the Cats to a 33-0 victory over the Texarkana Razorbacks.

The Cats were scoreless in the first quarter, but came to life and scored five touchdowns.

Fullback. Jim Higham scored from the 2-yd. line and a Mumme-Strothers pass scored No. 2 and Brashears PAT's ended the scoring at the half.

A Mumme-to-Vaughan pass scored the first of the Cats last 3 touchdowns, then Brashear scored on 45-yd. pass and Joe Smelser ended the scoring with an intercepted pass going for 65 yards. Brashear added the third PAT.

Wildcats Gobble Rockets 14-7 In Thanksgiving Day Play-off

Led by All-Big-Nine candidate Mike Vaughan, the North Little Rock Wildcats ended their season on a successful note by beating the Catholic High Rockets, 14-7.

Vaughan set up both TD's as well as scoring both. By intercepting a pass he set up the first score, then he caught a Mumme pass to score. In the fourth period Vaughan raced 50 yards with a punt return and after two plays swept into the end zone.

Brashear added both PAT's.

Coach Albright said he was pleased with the boys work and praised Ray Ball, a junior for his defensive job in the game.

Non-Conference Games

Friday, December 1, the 1961-'62 edition of Wildcat Hill's basketball team journeyed to Jonesboro to open the season with the always powerful Hurricanes and were defeated 61-46. All-State center Jim Holsted led the Wildcats in the scoring department with 13 points.

The following night, the Wildcats traveled to the little town of Nettleton and the Raiders surprised the North Siders 49-48 and the Cat's record read 0-2.

December 5, the Cats returned home for the first home game of the year against the Conway Wampus Cats. Holsted led the Cats to their first victory of the young season scoring 19 big points in playing only three quarters.

After winning the Little Rock City tournament, the Wildcats dropped the Catholic High Rockets 48-38 in a surprisingly close contest. Holsted again led the Cats scoring 26 points and grabbing 18 rebounds. The Wildcats' record jumped to 4-2.

Friday, January 19, the Jonesboro Hurricanes invaded Wildcat Field House to do battle with the high riding Wildcats. Revenge was what the Cats got as they avenged an earlier loss to the Hurricanes 68-57.

On January 30, the cool Wildcats knocked off Catholic High for third straight time of the year, defeating them 70-46. At this stage of the season, this was the largest amount of points the Cats had scored. Delany Kinchen led all scorers with 20 big points.

Friday March 2, the Wildcats dropped the Conway Wampus Cats for the second time to end the regular season. The Cats record read 19-6 with the State tournament yet to play. Holsted sacked 22 to led all scorers.

Conference Games

Hall High's Warriors edged the Cats in the first conference game of the year for both teams 57-53. The Wildcats record now read 4-3.

North Little Rock gained their first conference victory on January 2 when they walloped the Hot Springs Trojans 55-39. Holsted continued his outstanding play scoring 20 points and passing off for several baskets.

Senior John David Young captured the Wildcats second conference victory almost single handed scoring 20 points and setting up key baskets with uncanny passing as the Cats dropped the Fort Smith Grizzles 53-43.

After moving into second position by dropping the Grizzles, the Cats proceeded to lose their next two conference games to the Blytheville Chicks and then lost a heartbreaking game to the Pine Bluff Zebras. The record now stood at 6-5.

Tuesday, January 16, the Blue and White traveled across the river to battle the Little Rock Central Tigers. The Wildcats proved a Wildcat is superior to a Tiger by clipping the Tigers 59-54. Holsted again proved to be the leader by scoring 24 points and blocking several Tiger shots.

Next in the line of suffers was the Texarkana Razorbacks who the Wildcats handled 49-29. Delany Kinchen accepted the leadership scoring 17 points and grabing 12 rebounds.

Friday, January 26, the North Siders traveled to El Dorado in search of their fifth conference win, but had to wait as the Oilers dealt the Wildcats a crushing defeat. The final score read 50-48 and the Wildcats conference record had dropped to 4-4.

After their conference record had dropped to 4-4, the determined Cats then ran off 13 straight victories before they were upended in the finals of the state tournament.

Hall's Warriors ran in to the determined machine first and suffered their first conference loss 48-38. Delaney Kinchen again provided the spark the surging Cats needed racking up 13. The game was won on the boards as the Cats outrebounded the smaller Warriors 33-22. rebounded the smaller

The machine hit full steam Tuesday, February 6 and the Fort Smith Grizzles were the unfortunate who received the blow. The hot Wildcats poured in 80 big points and the best the Grizzles could do was 50. The Cats hit 57% from the field and the Grizzles free throw shooting could not make up the difference.

The Hot Springs Trojans were the next team in line to feel the sting of the smooth moving machine as the Big Blue dropped the Spa 66-45. The Cats fell behind at the start of the game and slowly put the Trojans.

The powerful Cats showed that they could play any kind of ball and get the same results as they dropped the Central Tigers for win number five in the string of 13. The scoreboard read 2-2 at the end of the first period and 6-6 at halftime.

By playing one game at a time, the Cats slowly moved toward the top spot. Playing before a packed house, the Cats moved into second place by trouncing the Blytheville Chicks 51-41. The loss dropped the Chicks into third place. Basil Hicks, an All-State forward, provided the extra punch the swiftly moving machine needed to repel the big strong Chicks.

Tuesday, February 20, the machine keep moving right along as the Cats eased by the El Dorado Oilers. The win was number seven in the string successes.

Friday. February 23, the Wildcats, four buses of pepcats and two buses of boy supporters journeyed to Pine Bluff to due battle with the tall Zebras and escaped with victory number eight.

In the final conference game of the season, the Wildcats sacked up their half of the Big Nine crown by defeating the Razorbacks of Texarkana 51-48. Kinchen clinched the game with two key baskets in the last minute.

State Tournament

By finishing in a tie for the Big Nine, the 1961-'62 edition of the Wildcat basketball team earned a spot in the "AA-AAA" State Tournament at Barton Coliseum March 7-10.

Continuing along at a fantastic pace, the wonderful Wildcats romped over the Benton Panthers 60-26. Holsted led the Cats in scoring, netting 13 of the Wildcats first 17 points and finished the night with 17 markers. The highlight of the game for the Wildcats was the excellent defense which held the Panthers to a grand total of zero points in the third period.

Victory number 12 was easily earned as the strong Cats downed the Springdale Bulldogs 51-34 in a quarterfinal game of the tournament. Junior Ronnie LeMay led the assault on the Bulldogs driving through defenders for easy baskets.

Keyed up for the biggest game of the year, the Wildcats played like a championship team as they downed the number one ranked Fayetteville Bulldogs 59-54. LeMay, who earned an All-State berth for his outstanding play, led the Cats to a well deserved victory scoring 18 points and stealing numerous passes. Hicks, who also won a berth along with Holsted and LeMay, added 14 tallies and Holsted followed Hicks with 12.

By downing Fayetteville, the Cats earned the right to play the Jonesboro Hurricane in the final game of the tournament.

After being high as a kite for the Fayetteville game, the Cats let up just a little too much and the smart hustling Hurricane jumped into an early lead and managed to maintain the lead for the Class "AA-AAA" State Championship.

Selecting capable leaders of our school is a hard and important task. Each year the candidates hand out election cards and buttons, make pledges, and write speeches in preparation for the annual student council election assemble.

The school constitution places certain requirements on students even considering running for an office and the student body requires that their leaders possess such qualities as high scholarship, high character. high ideals, good sportsmanship, and freedom from prejudice.

Win or lose, the election always tends to increase school spirit and unity, it is responsible for the making of many new acquaintances and the friendly atmosphere of the school.

Student Council

The School's Governing Body

One of the most vital organizations to function in N.L.R.H.S. is the Student Council. This organization helps the students to understand the motives of the school and promotes the general welfare for each student.

The Student Council is composed of one representative from each homeroom and four officers. Each member must maintain a "C" average in every subject as well as a satisfactory citizenship grade to be eligible.

The N.L.R.H.S. Student Council sponsors many activities such as the annual Thanksgiving Assembly. Through this project and many others Wildcats help promote activities beneficial to the community.

N.L.R.H.S. Student Council sends delegates to regional, state and district conventions and has many times been chosen officer for these conventions.

The Student Council is the heart of the Student body, because it is composed of and for the student body.

"Have you got that spirit?" This question rings out at all football and basketball games and assemblies. And those asking it are the Pep Cats and Catettes. These two groups along with the Cheerleaders lend support to the fighting Wildcats.

The Pep Cats attend all home games and some out-of-town games. They add color to the cheering section with hand drills with blue and white pom-pons, and, most of all promote better support and sportsmanship.

The Catettes, our drill team, provide halftime entertainment with drills and dances at all home football games.

Future Homemakers Are America's Future

"We are the Future Homemakers of America" is the phrase constantly on the minds of each member of this organization which is open to any girl who is enrolled in home economics or who has completed one year of homemaking instruction. In order that each girl can become an efficient homemaker, F.H.A. sponsors activities in which its members gain experience in entertaining. This valuable experience is obtained by giving teas, luncheons, and banquets for teachers and parents.

Having approximately 92 members, F.H.A. awards the Junior, Chapter, and State Homemaker's degrees of achievement to those who desire to exert that added amount of effort. To merit these degrees, members must show that they have grown in service to school, church, and community, and that they have strengthened their personality, character, and improved or added to good family relationships.

As all members participate they know they are "the builders of homes, homes for America's future," for "America's future lies in the hands of its youth."

Future Tradesmen

Master Engineers

Are Trained Here

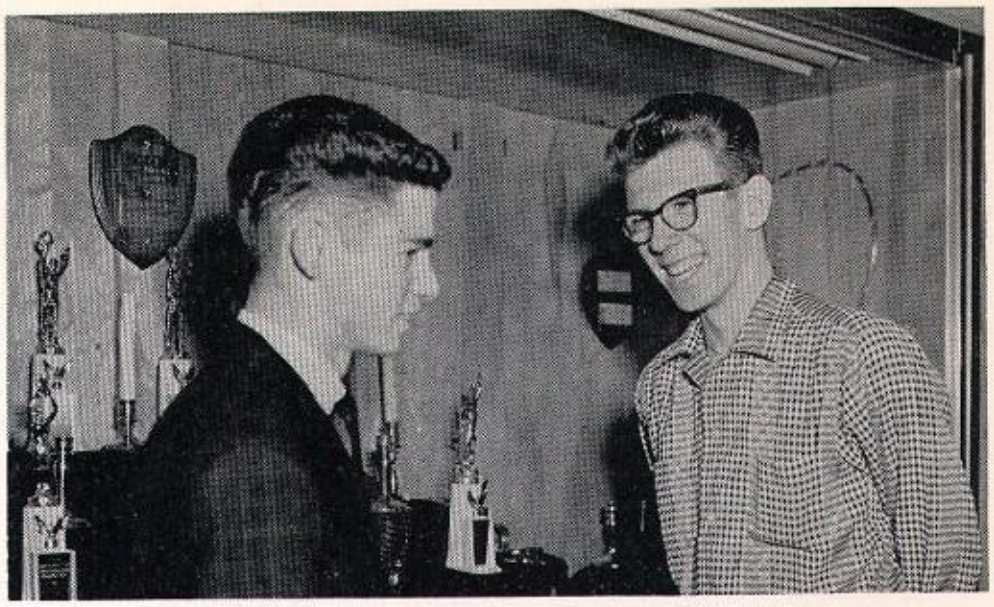
Training to be tomorrow's vocational leaders are the hard working Future Tradesmen of Wildcat Hill.

To become a member of the Future Tradesmen the student must be studying vocational courses such as machine shop, auto mechanics, tailoring, and nursing.

Of the many activities held is the Future Tradesmen of Arkansas Convention held annually in the latter part of February or the early part of March. Wildcats attending work hard and diligently on the project they are to exhibit. Several Wildcats in the years past have won high honors at the convention.

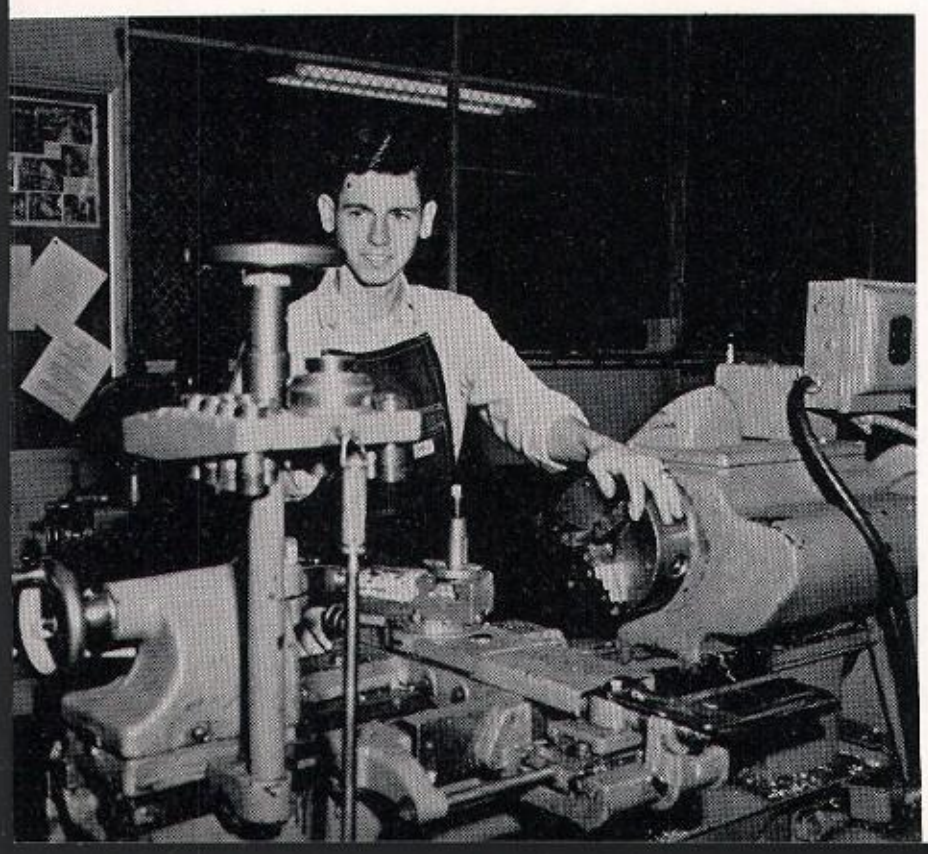
N.L.R.H.S. Future Tradesmen select a sweetheart each year to represent our school at the convention. Our F.T.A. sweetheart then competes for the state title.

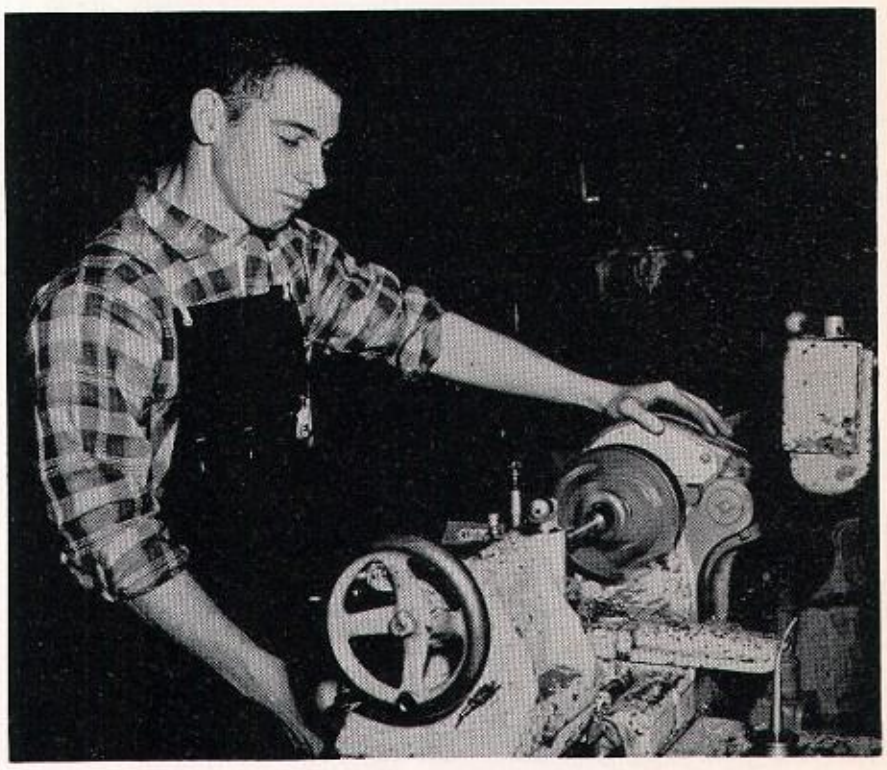
The Future Tradesmen of today will be the leaders of tomorrow.



President Mac Clem and Vice President James Hammett talk over the club activities including the keeping up of the trophy case.

The Three state convention winners display their trophies. Mac Clem, James Hammett, and Lloyd Dobins.





Mac Clem, Future Tradesman of the month of March; and David Bone, Future Tradesman of the month of January. James Hammett was the outstanding member in February.

F.T.A. Officers discuss plans for the April Initiation Banquet. They are: Secretary Nancy Burt, Treasurer Lorraine Deslauriers, President Emily Whitson, and Vice President Martha DeViney.

Plato once said, "Those having torches will pass them on to others," And, those most dedicated to this cause are teachers.

The Future Teachers' of America is an organization designed for those desiring a career in teaching. It briefs its members on the mechanics of teaching, and enables them to work with the teachers in our school.

Requirements for Future Teachers' are good character, scholarship, leadership, and most important of all, the desire to teach.

Talmud said, "The best teacher is time; the best book is the world." But, people are needed to interpret these supreme instructors, and these people are teachers.

"Now I'm not sure you have that just right, sonny . . . " questions Linda Celarier as she protrays a teacher of the past on the panel discussion for a teachers' gathering. Other panel members were Sharon Hamilton, Ricky Williams, Marty DeViney, and Carolyn Stout.

Future Nurses
To Soothe
A Fevered Brow

Future Nurses are young girls who are used to diligent work and new experiences in the quest for gainful knowledge. They are girls who look toward the future and plan ahead.

Among the varied activities of the Future Nurses are an assembly and an annual banquet. They acquire a good deal of knowledge from working at the Arkansas Baptist Hospital as Candy Stripers. At the meetings of the Future Nurses various guest speakers, many of whom are doctors and nurses, speak to the young girls about the field of medicine.

One of the main objectives of the Future Nurses is to give girls an introduction to the field of nursing. Too, the Future Nurses gives girls a chance to be sure that the field of nursing is actually what they want to do before they start actual training. The Future Nurses is an organization to lead girls into worthwhile field of medicine.

Future Nurses officers for 1961-62 are Carolyn Eanes, Bonita Smith, Billie Apple, Miriam Kayser, and Jean Chilton.

"Ma'am, did you say a straitjacket?" Connie Kirby enters patient's private domain.

"But Carolyn, do you think it's really fair to short-sheet a patient?" asks Sarah Rhodes as they prepare a patient's bed.

"Now we know how Gertrude gets her errands finished so fast." remarks Connie Kirby and Sarah Rhodes.

F.B.L.A. Officers observe Secretary Polly Cathell as she types her shorthand transcription. Historian Glenda Cato, Treasurer Phyllis Coulter, Vice President Nancy Burt, Reporter Cheryl Nelson, and President Miriam Kayser.

The Future Business Leaders of America's purpose is to familiarize its members with the business world of today.

Any student who will have completed a minimum of three commercial courses with a B average in each before graduation is eligible for membership in F.B.L.A.

Dinners at various restaurants, business speakers on various phases of business, a career day, initiation day, the initiation banquet, and the State Convention are a few of the clubs activities.

At the State Convention, held each year, N.L.R.H.S. students enter the various contests in dictation, spelling and typing against students from elsewhere in the state.

Art Club

They Carry On Tradition and Beauty

To continue the appreciation and fine heritage of art handed down from century to century, students at N.L.R.H.S. join the Art Club.

The members of the Art Club not only draw and paint, but participate in such fine arts as sculpturing, carving, lettering, and sewing. By participating in these arts members develop appreciation, taste, talent, and understanding in all phases of fine arts.

Each year Art Club members help build and paint the back-drop for the Musical Variety Show and make props for some of the assemblies. They provide the football games with the traditional Wildcat head for the team to run through. They also own and make repairs on the Mascot uniform.

Among the activities are meetings, dinners, banquets, and field trips to commercial art studios and the Fine Arts Museum.

Officers: Secretary Frances Nail, President Barbara Thompson, Treasurer Jeannie Hardcastle.

"Honest Mrs. Thompson, we thought you said to paint a floral!" says Carlene Juarez as Joan Gross, Sherry Cathey, and Bill Cummings help paint the backdrop for Musical Varieties.

Second year art students Tommy Bradshaw, Bill Cummings, Carlene Juarez, and James Barley mix tempra paint.

"Gee, I thought only the Persians were rugmakers," says Linda Hall as she and Beverly Weathersby work on a hooked rug.

Bookworms Take Good Care of Books

"Open Sesame!" and behold the worlds' riches in literature are at your finger tips through the help of Bookworms, the student librarians club of North Little Rock Senior High.

These students, the Bookworms, perform the duties which are so essential to a smoothly operated library--checking books out and, in general, assisting the teachers and students in any way they are needed.

In order to qualify for membership in Bookworms, a person must maintain a "C" average in each of his subjects and have satisfactory citizenship grades.

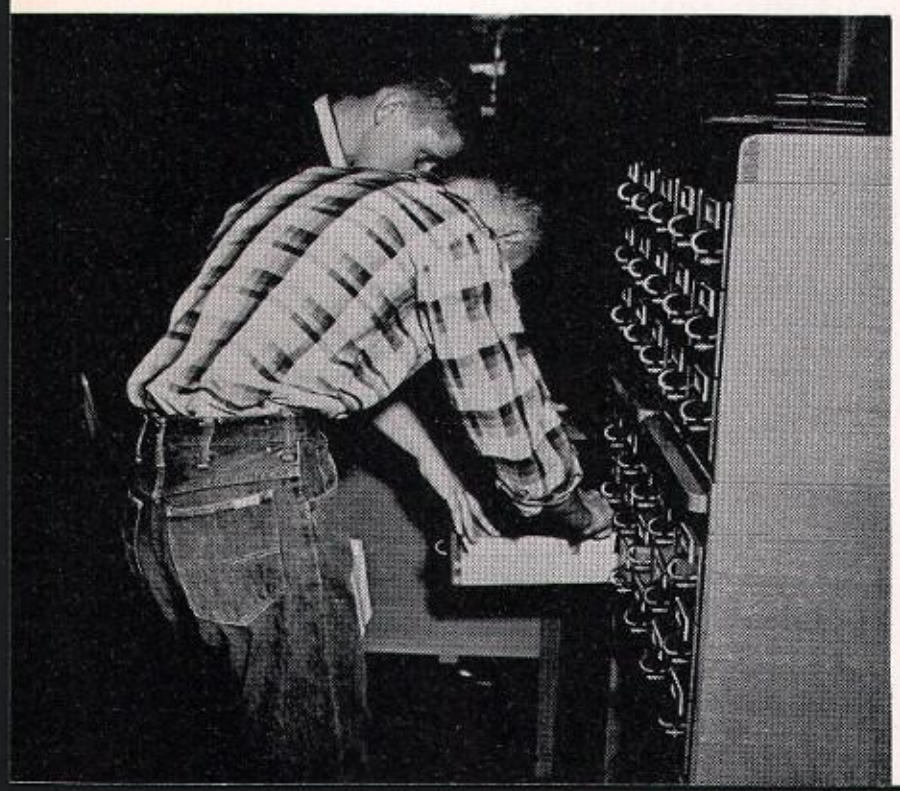
The N.L.R.H.S. Bookworms take part in the annual Student Librarian Association Convention, along with 1200 other student bookworms and their sponsors. Each year their activities include several parties and other events.

The N.L.R.H.S. Library would hardly be complete without the helpfulness of the Bookworms.

"Glittered spaghetti makes a perfect substitute for icicles!" smiles Annette Lanner to Kathy Phillips as they decorate the annual library Christmas tree.

"And this tells how to build your own, personal Atom Smasher in Ten Easy Lessons!" remarks Pat Ray to library visitors Phyllis Coulter and Nancy Ellis.

"Two ambitious young men search diligently through the card file for a copy of "Dick and Jane."



The Key Club is an international organization for boys interested in serving their school, community, nation, and God.

To be eligible for membership, a boy must be trustworthy, show leadership ability, have a "B" average scholastically, and be willing to live up to the laws and goals of the club.

Throughout the school year the Key Club members take on various responsibilities. They operated the fieldhouse concession stand during the home basketball games and sold booster pennants for the Thanksgiving Day game.

The Key Club is sponsored by Kiwanis International.

Key Club officers are Aubrey Hough, treasurer; James Tyler, secretary; Lane Strother, vice president; and Tommy Bjorkman, president.

"The meeting will come to order . . . " says Tommy Bjorkman. "I move we adjourn!" yells Raymond Medlock. "I second the motion!!!" shouts Anthony Gadberry as the Key Clubers portray samples of the business they conduct in a meeting.

Key Club

Chapel

For Devotion And Inspiration

Every student at N.L.R.H.S. has the opportunity to start the week off right by attending Chapel early Monday morning.

There is thirty minutes of inspiration and devotion. The program is usually presented by a N.L.R.H.S. student, but occasionally a guest speaker gives the devotional.

During the school year 1961-62 Chapel was honored with such speakers such as Casey Laman, Mayor of North Little Rock; Mr. Tom Digby, a prominent North Little Rock lawyer; and Mr. Bob Kaufman, director of Young Life.

This is not a club because Chapel is open to all who wish to attend. No membership fee is required, but there are officers to provide for programs, song leaders, and piano players.

Guest speaker Danny Coker gives the devotion in a Chapel service.

The Amateur Rocket Society

For Genius With Time for It

The Arkansas Amateur Rocket Society, now in its fifth year, was founded by Mr. William Ripley, a former chemistry teacher at North Little Rock High School, for the purpose of acquainting students with the many aspects of modern rocketry and related sciences.

The club has held several firings during the year at its launching site at Redfield, Arkansas, to test various fuels and parachute release mechanisms.

Membership is open to high school and college level students whose interests lie in the fields of physics, chemistry, electronics, mathematics and the like. At present there are fifteen to twenty members who meet weekly at the Youth Center.

Officers are:
Dan Schiffer President
Curtis Hester Vice President
Mike Jennison Treasurer
Lynne Sprigg Secretary

"All I did was put a bandaid on a soldier's finger and everyone thinks I started the Red Cross!" says Linda LaGrossa as she portrays Clara Barton.

Red Cross

Ready to Serve All Humanity

"It is better to give than to receive." This thought is cherished by all Junior Red Cross members, as they share their time and talents with those who need them most.

The N.L.R.H.S. chapter of the Junior Red Cross is composed of one representative from each homeroom. These members represent our school in the many activities of the Junior Red Cross at the city and state level.

An annual drive is sponsored by the Junior Red Cross to fill gift boxes to send overseas for those who are less fortunate than we. Other activities include working in the hospitals and in the homes of shut-ins, bringing cheer and radiant smiles to their patients.

This organization has found that serving others is one of the most vital ingredients of happiness, and they are perfecting their recipe by sharing it with others.

"The most exciting things has just happened. Big "Twinkletoes" McGraw tripped over his shoe laces!" shouts press reporter Phil Haste as Linda Santorufo watches TV.

Red Cross officers are Emily Whitson, president; Wayne Linder, vice president; Martha DeViney, treasurer and reporter; and Mary Chism, secretary.

" . . . and add two eggs," says Gayle Greenleaf as Linda changes channels.

"Whadda ya mean you slapped him on the back in front of his face and then cut his throat behind his back?" asks Ricky Kuonen as David Medly stands speechless.

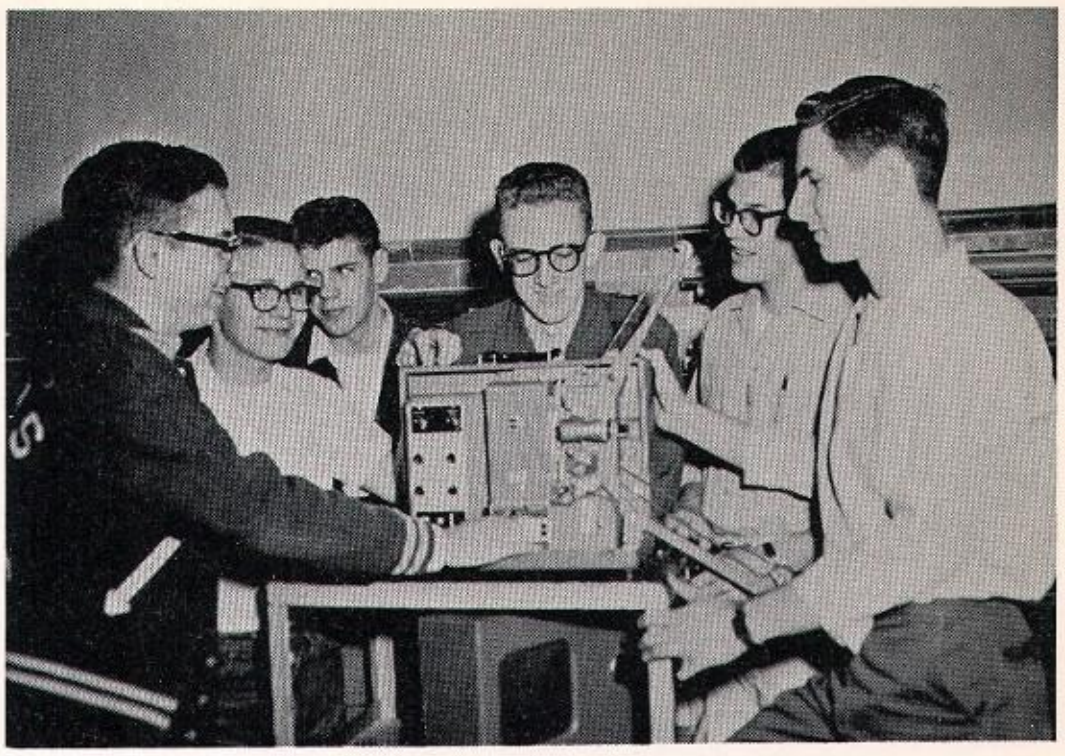
Film Crew

Roll'em Boys

In 1862, students only had reading, writing, and arithmetic, but in 1962, students now have the privilege to see films, listen to records, and use other audio-visual equipment.

The film crew is in charge of his aspect of N.L.R.H.S. They operate these machines that make studying more pleasant and varied.

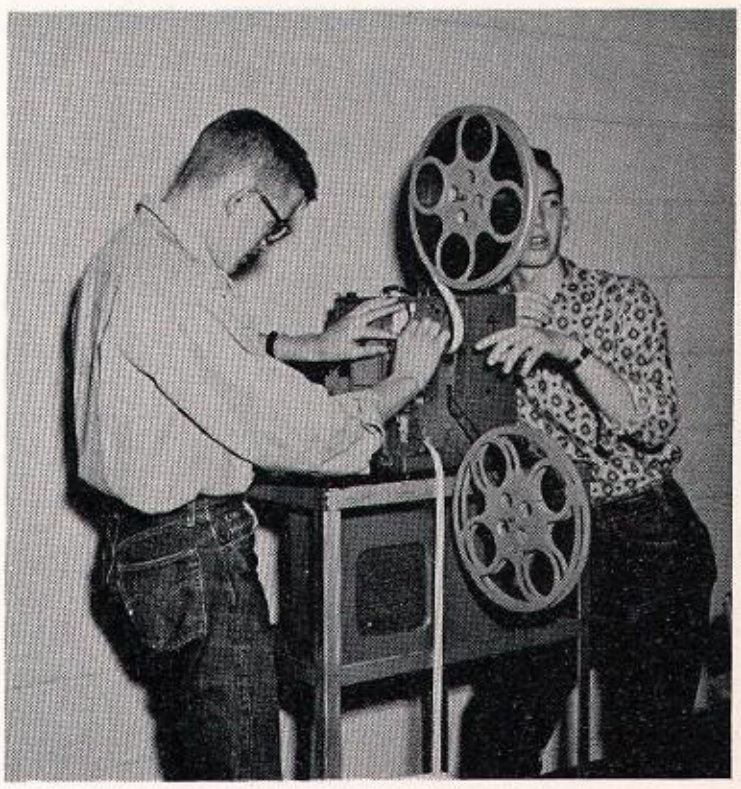
Early in the year students are asked if they would like to work in this department. If they do, they are trained to run these machines and to prepare rooms for their operation.



Film crew head monitors gather for a film fest. They are Tony Thurman, Mickey Buchanan, Pat Spriggs, Jimmy Autry, Paul Shelton, and Don Moon.

"First thing to do is unfold the thing . . . ." says Jane Fishback as she demonstrates the way to set up the film.

"Cut the wise cracks or I'll choke on this pencil!"



"Look out, here comes that teacher again . . . . . ."

"Hold it a minute, Joe, somebody's here to take my picture!" exclaims Garland Ferguson as he discusses the spotlight position for an assembly.

Behind Every Good Show

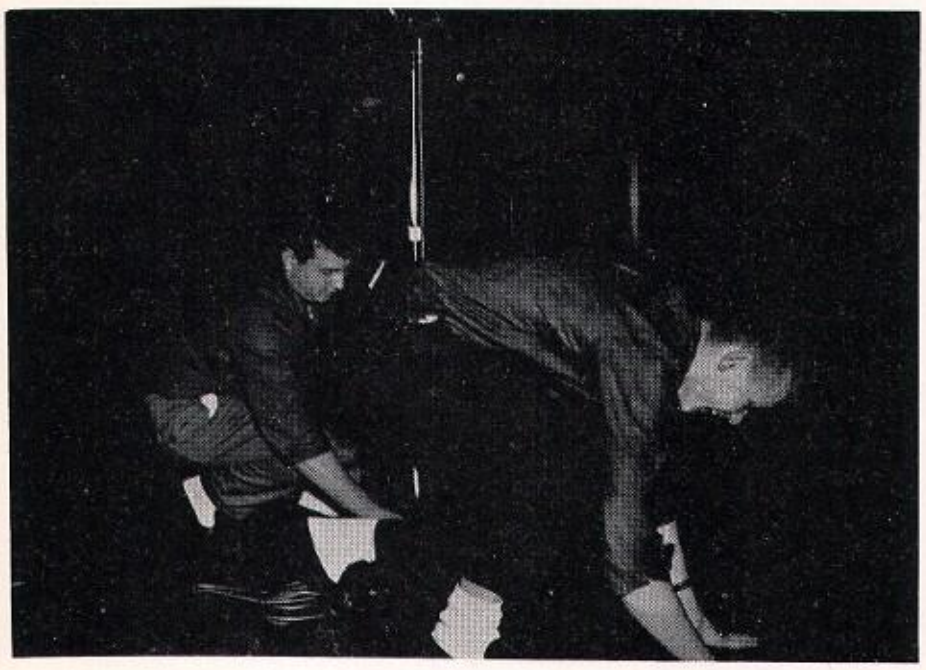
Stage Crew

The success of a stage production depends mainly upon the talents of the players. But, no show could be a success without the behind-the-scene group, the stage crew. It is up to these hard working, little recognized fellows to make sure there is proper lighting at the proper time, and the equipment kept in good condition. Curtains must be raised and music played on cue. Microphones must be properly adjusted and the spotlight must be kept on the center of attraction.

Yes, "All the world's a stage," but not all are players. Some must remain back-stage to direct the scenes, and those are the members of the Stage Crew.

"A nice long cord, and no electricity." Bill Rice adjusts the microphone cord.

"Tarzan . . . you missed the rope. I can tell now, this assembly is going to be a 'flop'," calmly remarks Jimmy Waymire as he "works the ropes" for assembly.



"Please help me, I'm falling!!!" screams Jim Clark to undisturbed Jimmy Dodson while preparing the mike for stage use.

Theta Science is a club for science-minded students and has as its goals, the promotion of scientific interest, self-expression in science, and a definite channeling of scientific aptitude. Membership is open to all who are interested in these things.

The bi-weekly meetings consist of lectures by the members, science teachers, and special guests, demonstrations, records, film, and student projects which help in explaining the topic of the meeting.

All the science courses at N.L.R.H.S. are represented in the club.

Officers are Curtis Hester, Ruth Daniel, James Tyler, Lee Browder, Aubrey Hough, and Kathryn Flake.

Spanish Club officers are Wayne Linder, Bill Kirby, Renee Russell, and Bill Vowell.

Students enrolled in Spanish go by the name of Los Gatos Espanoles, the Spanish Cats.

The Spanish Club encourages a better understanding of and a closer relationship with the Latin American countries by studying their language, customs, and recreations.

Pan-American Day stimulates the attention to Mexico on Wildcat Hill. On that day, the Spanish students wear colorful costumes, and posters are put up throughout the halls.

The Los Gatos Espanoles enjoy gay fiestas by holding banquets at restaurants serving Mexican food and corresponding with Spanish-speaking people; and learn songs, dances, and games of Spanish descent.

Once a month the students hold meetings in the individual classes. Only Spanish can be spoken during these meetings.

Shout 'Ole!' For Los Gatos Espanoles

His Honor, Mayor Laman, tries his hand at teaching Spanish. Substitute Mrs. Goss stands by to interpret!

"I'm going to take a siesta if this fiesta doesn't begin soon!" moans Sherry Springer as the Spanish Cats feast at the annual banquet.

Spanish dancers practice for their performance on the annual Spanish assembly.

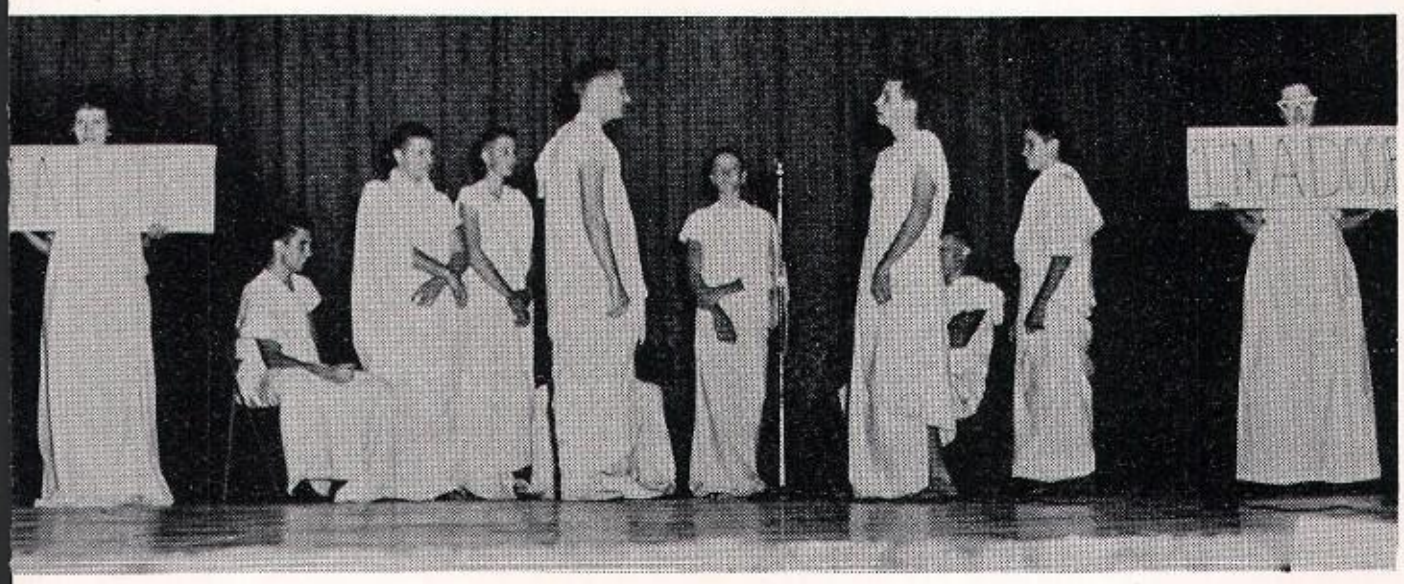
Latin, the parent language, is the theme for each meeting of the Quo Vadis, a club for students studying or who have studied Latin.

Early Roman life is vaguely interpreted in the annual Latin Assembly which spotlights members of the club.

Various other activities are included in the yearly programs, such as a Christmas Party and a banquet at which first year students serve as "slaves" to the second year group.

Quo Vadis with the meaning "Whither thou goest" will always be remembered by former Latin students.

Latin club officers this year are Ronnie Franks, Pat Donelson, Linda Browder, and Sue Stanley.



"Oh, Caesar, you are a rat, a dirty rat . . ." declares Dwight Goodman on the Latin club assembly.

Classical Cats Belong to Quo Vadis

"Oh, horrors, Caesar, our beloved Caesar lies dead, and his feet are dirty!"

"Poor Caesar's dead, poor Julius Caesar's dead . . ."

French club officers this year are Linda Humphries, Linda Powell and Linda Sue Powell.

Le Cercle Francais

For Frantic 'Frogs'

Because of smaller classes, the French Club, Le Cercle Francais, does not have regular meetings as in previous years. Now meetings are called by the President only when there is any important club business to discuss.

During the year the members order French Club pins and have a French Club banquet in the spring. Some members correspond with students in France.

The romance and beauty of the French language becomes an appreciated reality to the students of the long accepted languages of culture and society.

Letters from abroad, in French, yet! Maybe Sarah Beth Martin and Tommy Dodson can help figure out what is said.

Pinned . . . . . Pat Mosley recieves her French pin with Linda Humphries doing the honors.

"Parlez-vous francais, Mademoiselle?" "Yeah, I'll go, how much money can we spend?"

"If we can grow as simply as common blades of grass." The goals of the Y-Teens are to grow as a person, to grow in friendship with all people, and to grow in the love and knowledge of God. Through these goals the Y-Teens strive to build better young women.

The N.L.R.H.S. Y-Teens also promote various activities within the school, community, and city; such as the Rainbow Crutch and the Polio March. They also perform services for needy families and orphanages.

The Y-Teens from N.L.R.H.S. send delegates to city, State, Mid-South and National conventions. Through these conventions the girls make lasting friendships.

"And I was so disgusted! . . . . " gripes Cherry as she and the other N.L.R. Y-Teen officers talk it over. Pam Warrick, State President; Kathy Reed, City Vice President; Cherry Fisher, City President; and Toni Lister, City Senior Hostess.

"They're eating our reports!" declares Nanci Biery as she and other Earthians visit the moon Y-Teens.

Y-Teen officers Marybeth Spearmon, Mary Frances Whalen, Toni Lister, Linda Powell, .Maribeth Biggs and Vicki Weindorf discuss the business after a regular meeting.

Y-Teens

For Personal and Spiritual Growth

"That'll teach them to go peddle their old Red Crutches somewhere else!" exclaims Jeannie Stewart as the Russian soldiers gun down Y-Teen service project workers Betty Kai Turner and Vicki Weindorf on the annual Y-Teen Assembly.

Mid-winter conference delegates discuss campaign strategy for Vicki . . . she won the election, Senior Hostess '62 - '63.

Forensic Officers Frances Nail, Pam Warrick, Bill Lafferty, and Vicki Lafferty.

"Therefore we hope you will concur with the affirmation in your decision." This statement usually concludes the Forensic League debates, although it is certainly not always the affirmation that wins.

Both good and bad points are presented to the audience when a question is debated, each team giving substantial arguments for its side.

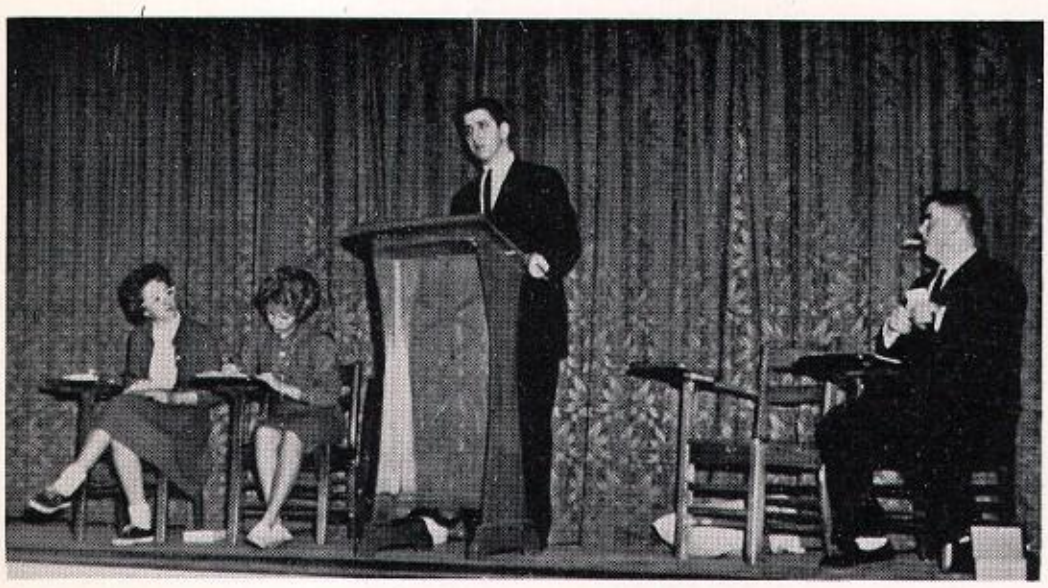
The Forensic League debated at the annual Speech Festival in Searcy and received a superior rating. The league also debated at the Southern Speech Festival in Austin, Texas, and with other high schools in this area.

The mental alertness, organization and competence in public speaking gained from debating will be an asset in any walk of life.

Forensic League

The Question Is Debatable

"I wish he would shut up, he's supporting the wrong side!" moans Tommy Riggs as Bill Anderson presents his part on the debate program.



"But Santa Claus, dear soul, should ALWAYS come down the chimney," pleads Tommy Riggs.

"I, too, am happy to be here debating this most timely and important question, Resolved: that the horseless carriage will never last." Pam Warrick speaks on behalf of her side of the debate.

Girls' Recreation Association

For Greater Physical Fitness

Physical fitness is the program that the Girls' Recreation Association offers to the feminine gender on Wildcat Hill. This club, formed in 1959, is open to girls whether they are enrolled in physical education or not.

Organized recreation, such as charge, volleyball, flag football, table tennis, and shuffleboard are provided for these athletic-minded girls.

At the end of the year awards are given to members who have earned points by participating in the various activities.

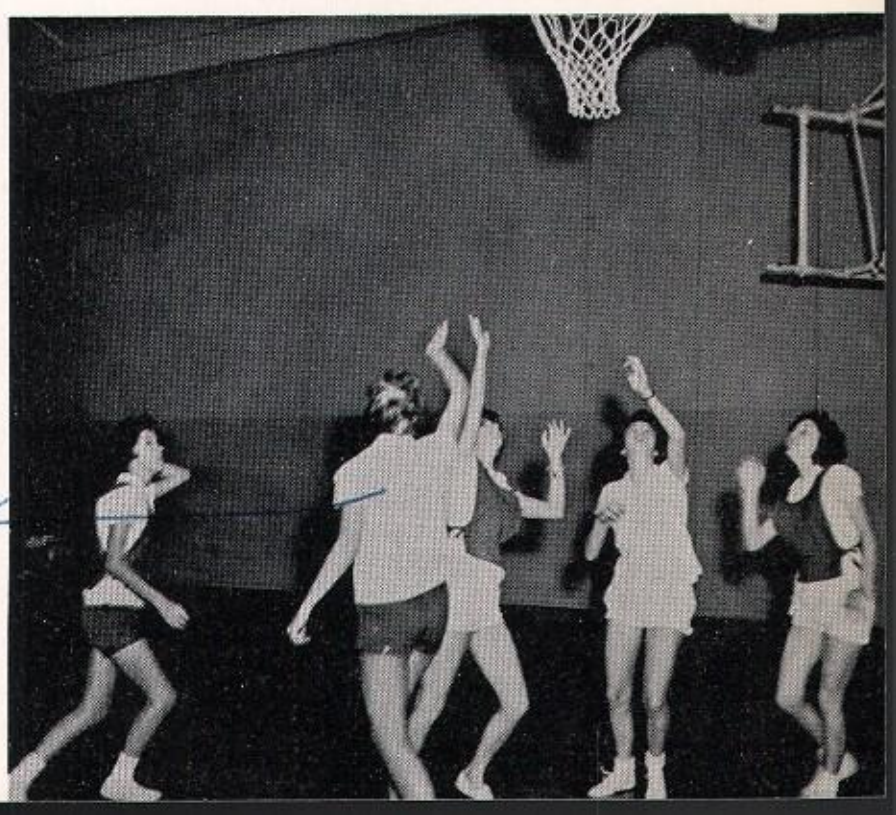
The club also has projects to raise money.

G.R.A. officers this year are Dianna Summers, Rena Noble and Linda Hall.

"Now what are they up in the air about?"

"I haven't played jump rope with two ropes in a long time but I wish you would hurry and get the ropes going!"

"Where did that basketball go?"



"Boy, listening in on these conversations is fun!" Bobby Jones works the office switchboard.

Monitors
The School's Little Helpers

Monitors play an essential role in the mechanics of N.L.R.H.S. Students filling these positions must have character, integrity, and be dependable.

Some sixty selected students assist the Guidance Counselors and Deans and hold the responsibilities of monitoring at the doors, vocations, library, bookstore, office, and lab.

These monitors have varied duties such as answering the phone, working on the switch board, running errands, checking in and out library books, selling supplies, setting up experiment equipment, and typing letters, reports, and programs.

"I'm sorry, we don't sell chewing gun here," says a bookstore monitor to Tommy Brown.

"I will never chew gum in class again . . . I will never . . ." writes Bev Brockert, a hall monitor.

"I looked so tough they put me here to guard the Cat's trophies," says foyer monitor, Janie Walters.

"Let's see now, A . . . B . . . . . What comes after B?" asks John Campbell as he studies the office files.

The Royalty is chosen on the basis of beauty, poise, and personality. the Senior Homerooms choose two girls each and the Senior girl winning the highest number of votes from among these is named Wildcat Queen. The second highest is the Visitor's Queen, and the third is the Maid. The Visitor's Maid is chosen by the homeroom selling the most season football tickets. Sophomore and Junior Maids are chosen in the same manner.

The Queens are crowned immediately preceding the kick-off of the game. A dance is held in their honor at the Youth Center after the game.

Each year outstanding members of the Junior Class are selected by the faculty to attend Boys' and Girls' State activities in June. Various civic and professional clubs pay the expenses as the delegates learn about their state government. These are North Little Rock's 1961 delegates.

These Wildcat athletes have earned the honor of being placed on the "Dream Teams" of 1962.

With a 6-6 season record the North Little Rock football team managed to put two men on the first team Big Nine teams and four others; Glenn Montgomery, Doug Odom, Wes Byrd, and Dwight Gill, on the honorable mention list.

The Cat roundballers came in first in the Big Nine standings and put three men on the All State Basketball team.

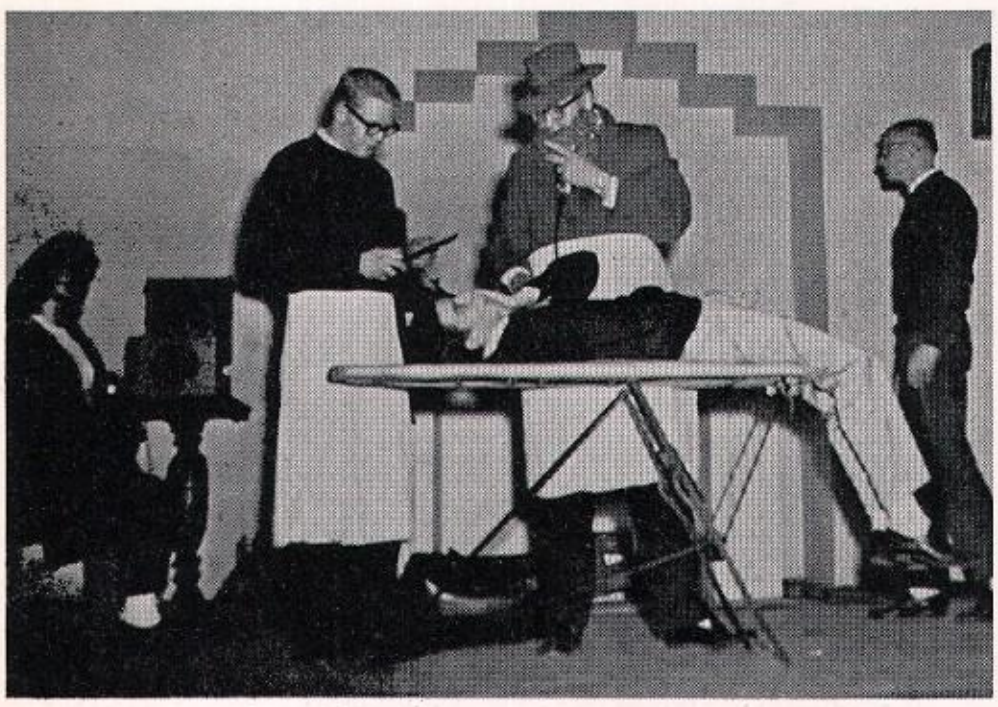
Honor Dramatists Became Thespians

THESPIAN OFFICERS: Carolyn Dornblazer, Vice President; Johnny Shepherd, Reporter; Bev Brockert, President; and Frances Shepherd, Secretary.

Thespians is a national club designed for those interested in the dramatic arts. In order to be eligible for membership the students must have ten points. These points are acquired by participating in stage productions. The highest honor a Thespian can attain is honor Thespian. This title requires the accumulation of fifty points over the original ten.

Points, though obligatory, are not the only requirement for membership. A member must also have good character, be a willing worker, and be dependable. He must work hard on all assignments, but this can be interesting and fun because he is working with people having a common interest--dramatics.

"Gee Mom . . . I'm 37. Why can't I date girls?" moans Bill Lafferty to Pam Warrick as they perform during the Christmas Speech Plays.



"I just don't think I was 'cut out' for this sort of thing!" says David Petty in horror to 'Doctor' Digby and other members of the Christmas play.

"It's all working out just as I planned it," thinks Johnny Shepherd as Anne McRae tries to straighten up the misunderstanding with Pam Jackson and Katye Wynne.

Thespians protray old Southern street cries and Johnny gives an original reading entitled, "Kiddy Baye" or "A Visit from Saint Twistolas."

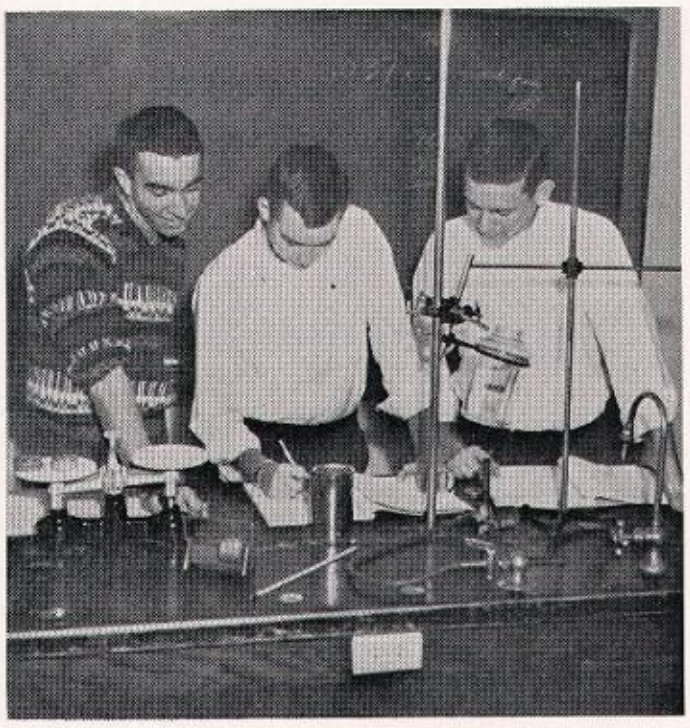
Tri Chem

To Honor Top Flight Scientists

Tri-Chem is an honor club chartered with the purpose of stimulating scientific interest. Only the top ten per cent of the B average students are eligible. Students are also required to have two years of scientific study.

Miss Sally Wade, sponsor spent many hours outside of class helping with projects, problems, and such things.



"The way this experiment works out is that X x X = X2."

"Suppose we light this little wick right here, wonder whether it would blow up . . . . ."

President Curtis Hester explains some phase of Tri Chem work to new inducties Janet Krum and Mike Jennison.

Pen, paper, and salesmanship, as the first instruments of testing for the journalism student, can be made instruments of success. This can only be achieved through hard work and determination.

Quill and Scroll is the reward to the journalism students who achieve the standards of the club. These standards are: outstanding work in advertising sales, writing ability, being in upper third of their class scholastically, and most of all having the desire to construct and promote the school paper and annual.

Induction into Quill and Scroll, which is a world-wide organization and has been at N.L.R.H.S. since 1936, simplified, is actually a pat on the back from the sponsor and a "thank you" for a job well done.

Quill and Scroll officers discuss initiation plans. They are President Johnny Shepherd, Vice President Charlene Banks, Secretary Maria Papageorge, Treasurer Wanda Huffman, Pledge Mistress Janet Lovell and Historian Nancy Burt. Not pictured is Reporter Vicki Lafferty.

Initiates light their candles from the combined flames of journalistic endeavor.

"I do . . . . . " solemly pledge, that is, to uphold the high standards of journalism . . . . . .

Top Journalists Were Invited into Quill & Scroll

"Bev, now you just tell me if I stick you," says Janet Lovell as she pins on Beverly's new Quill and Scroll pin on her sweater.

The National Honor Society is an honor organization designed to recognize students excelling in scholastic achievements, leadership, character, and service.

Five percent of the Senior Class are inducted in the fall initiation. The spring initiation inducts five percent of Junior Class and another five percent of the Senior Class.

Annually the Society sponsors the N.L.R.H.S. March of Dimes contest and two candy sales along with several other service projects.

National Honor Society

Speakers for the National Honor induction: Cheryl Friday, Character, Charlene Banks, Scholarship, Pat Weed, Leadership, and Pam Warrick, Service.

"I give this light to you so that you may pass it to others," says Thomas Blucker as he begins the candle lighting ceremony.

The Senior Girls' Trio, Frances Tucker, Becky Holt, and Phyllis Darden, sing for the National Honor induction.

SPRING 1962 INITIATES FRONT ROW: Barbara Cook, Glenda Cato, Nancy Burt, Pat Gregory, Judy Stakemiller, Donna Douglas, Sharon Hamilton. ROW TWO: Linda Stricklin, Paula Brummit, Anna Lynn Tarkington, Kay Tull, Kathryn Flake, Delores Alexander, Anita Boswell, Lynne Sprigg. "Death, be not proud, though some have called thee

Mighty and dreadful, for thou art not so;

For those whom thou think'st, thou dost overthrow

Die not, poor Death; nor yet canst thou kill me.

From Rest and Sleep, which but thy pictures be,

Much pleasure; then from thee much more must flow;

And soonest our best men with thee do go ---

Rest of their bones and souls' delivery!

****

One short sleep past, we wake eternally,

And Death shall be no more; Death, thou shalt die!"

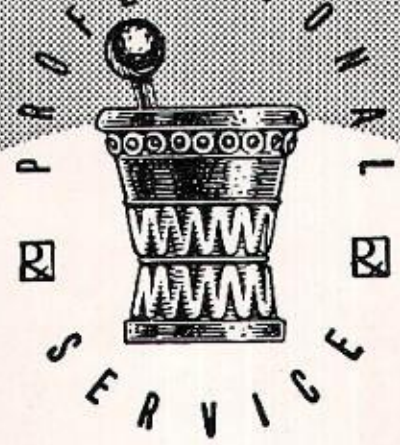
KEYNOTE OF THE DAY



The early part of the nineteenth century is recognized as the beginning of the machine age. With the machine age came modern medicine and pharmacy. Average life expectancy in 1850 was 39.8 years. Today it is about 67 years. Better living, better health, and longer life are the keynotes of the twentieth century. The art of the apothecary has been prominent in all medical progress. We are proud to supplement the skill of your physician by compounding your prescription with professional care and fine pharmaceuticals.

You Pay for a Business Education Whether You Get It or Not

(Comparative Life Earnings: — — Institute of Life Insurance)

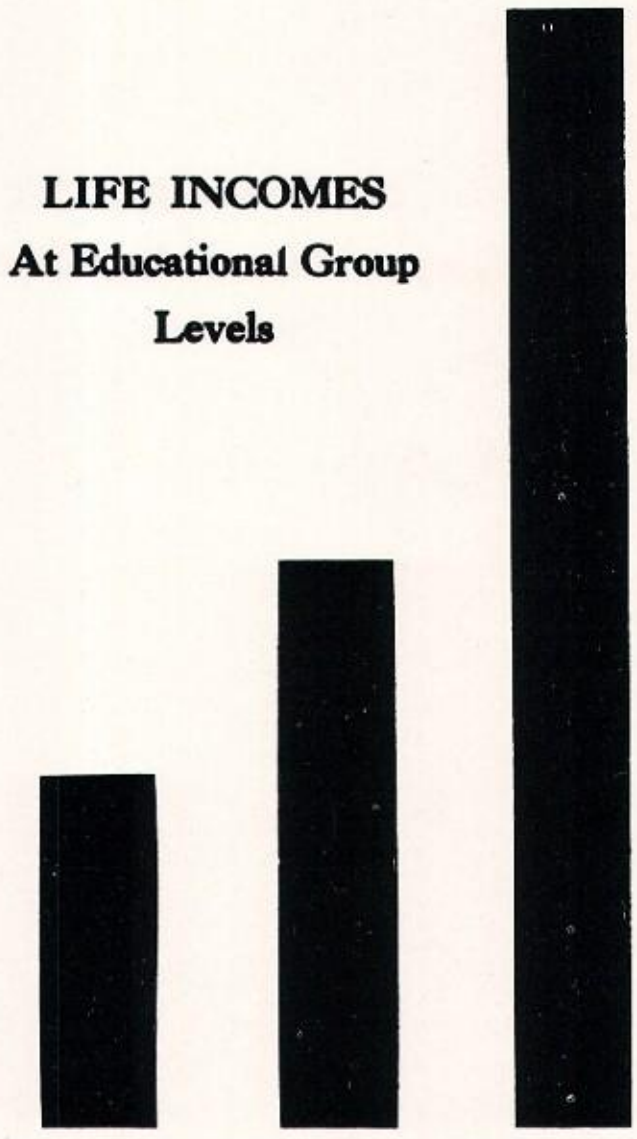
It is estimated that the untrained man goes to work at 14 and reaches his maximum at 40, with a life earning of $178,000. It is thought that more than 50 per cent of the untrained workers are dependent upon others after the age of 60.

The high school graduate rises steadily to his own maximum at 50, with a life earning of $243,000.

The business school graduate, since his income depends upon his mental ability and training, is constantly improved by practice; his income increases rather than diminishes. The graduate in business administration reaches his maximum at 60, and has a life earning of $347,000.

These estimates and figures are conservative, but the equivalent between each bracket would be in proportion to the dollar value in difference mentioned above.

LIFE INCOMES
At Educational Group Levels



ACCREDITATION OF SCHOOLS

The accreditation of a school is universally accepted as a guarantee of educational respectability. It means that some recognized agency has investigated the institution and found that it has at least the minimum physical facilities, financial stability, and faculty personnel necessary to offer in a satisfactory manner the educational program or programs it claims to offer.

MEASURE YOUR ABILITY

1. What does unemployment mean to you?
2. Does your present effort represent the best that you can do for yourself?
3. Would an extra skill, or additional knowledge, give you a better chance to get ahead?
4. Are you contented to keep on, year after year, doing the work you are now qualified to do?
5. Have you any assurance of advancing to a larger income and greater opportunities without additional specialized training?
6. Will you ever have a better chance to prepare for a business career than you have right now?
7. Don't you believe proper training will give you confidence and enlarge you to an outstanding job when competition is greatest?
8. Don't you think what you do in the months immediately ahead will largely determine the kind of life you are going to lead during the next 40 years?
9. Don't you think an office position provides a steady income, pleasant surroundings, paid vacations, regular hours, and unequalled opportunities for advancement?
10. Don't you think business training at Draughon School of Business would increase your ability to select your position instead of taking a job?

Dear Betty,

You are a sweet girl. We finally made it through shorthand, didn't we. It was hard but sometimes it was fun. I will never forget you. Stay sweet, Betty, and there is no reason why you won't go far in life. Loads of luck to you.

Love Always,
Sue Ellyson
